

Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

VOL. XXX.

HOPKINSVILLE, KENTUCKY, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1908.

No. 132.

KNOW MAN WHO FIXED THE ROPE

Gov. Patterson Says Evidence Is Complete Against Rankin's Murderers.

REMOVED TO MEMPHIS.

Three Confessed Night Riders to Be Used as Witnesses.

Camp Nemo, Reelfoot Lake, Tenn., Oct. 30.—"We know who fired the shot and who put the rope around Rankin's neck," said Gov. Patterson in a statement this afternoon just before his departure for Union City, where a special grand jury is investigating the night rider depredations in this section which culminated recently in the murder of Captain Quentin Rankin. The Governor in his statement said:

"The proof which has thus far developed is positive, as the guilt of some of the men under arrest and implicates many others. This will all be presented to the court at the proper time and a long process has been taken to discover and suppress lawlessness in this region. Conditions have been extremely bad, the night riders going from one lawless act to another until the culmination came with the murder of Capt. Rankin and the attempted murder of Col. Taylor. We know who fired the shot and who put the rope around Rankin's neck.

FEW MEN AT KILLING.

"The number of men actually at the killing was probably not more than ten, while some stood guard and others held the horses. The whole number engaged in the undertaking did not exceed thirty-five. The inquiry will be further prosecuted and the state will have ample evidence to convict."

It is learned that Frank Ferriner's confession was full and complete; that he says he was with the men who took Rankin and Taylor to the bank of the slough; that he told the name of the man who pulled the rope lifting the mob's victim into the air, and the name of the man who fired the first shot into Rankin's body. The confessions of Hogg and Morris are also said to be complete. Hogg, it is said, was one of the four men who guarded the horses near the scene of the murder, while Morris stood guard around the house when the leaders went in after Rankin and Taylor.

BURTON'S STORY SUBSTANTIATED.

The confessions of Ferriner, Hogg and Morris substantiate, it is said, that of Tid Burton, who is said to have spread the news among the night riders that Rankin and Taylor were at Walnut Log. These three will be used as state's witnesses. They were started this afternoon for Obion, where they will be taken to Memphis for safe keeping. It is understood that other important witnesses and prisoners, Garrett Johnson, alleged captain of the night riders; Will Watson, John Cochran, Will and Jim Keesucker and may be

(Continued on Fifth Page.)

Alexander-Burruss.

Milo Alexander and Miss Lola Burruss, young people living near Hawkins, were on Saturday granted a license to wed. The marriage was scheduled to occur at 9 o'clock Sunday morning.

Bartlett-Bartlett.

J. P. Bartlett, of Bivinsville, Todd county, secured a license Saturday to marry Miss Mary E. Bartlett. The date of the approaching nuptial event was not given.

We make your wall paper look like new for half the price; call 319 for particulars

List your real estate for sale with J. F. ELLIS.

DEMANDS A SQUARE DEAL

Republican Auditor Comes to the Defense of David Smith in a Telegram.

La Vega Clements spoke here Friday night and at other points in the county Saturday. W. H. Southall, J. T. Hanbery, Jno. C. Duffy, Walter Knight, W. A. Wilgus and other Democratic speakers all addressed big crowds at appointments at Gracey, Howell, Crofton and other places. Everywhere they found Democrats very much aroused over the local campaign.

Here in the city as well as in the country the Democratic candidates for judge and sheriff, C. W. Morrison and David Smith, have gained many votes during the last week. The speaking here Thursday night was an important factor in this. Mr. Smith's explanation of the way he lost the sheriff's office last spring and his open pledges for law and order, coupled with his defense of his record in office, brought him many wavering votes. Just as this tide of public sentiment was turning toward Mr. Smith, the Republicans made a grievous blunder in an effort to spring a sensation affecting the integrity of the Democratic candidate. A circular was issued charging him with being delinquent $942 in the dog tax fund, this being the amount of the delinquent list of uncollectible dog taxes, no longer in Mr. Smith's hands. The manifest unfairness of this groundless charge was evident to all and was a fatal blunder. The people as a rule admire and demand a square deal, even in politics. Mr. Smith at once produced the following settlement and explanation:

SETTLEMENT.

Settlement of David Smith, sheriff of Christian county, with F. P. James, Auditor of Public Accounts for the State of Kentucky, in matter of Dog Tax collected in accordance with Act of the 1906 session of the General Assembly of Kentucky on 1907 levy.

To amount collected on 2845 dogs at $1 each.....$2845.00
CREDITS—
Sheriff's 4 per cent commission on $2,845.....$ 113.80
Check this day sent to F. P. James Auditor..... 2731.20

Total.....$2845.00

THE AFFIANT, David Smith, states that as sheriff of Christian county during the year of 1907, and up to the 21st day of June, 1908, the above amount of $2,845.00 is the true amount collected by him as sheriff from the 1907 dog tax levy and that he was unable to collect the balance due on said levy and that the same is now delinquent and the most of it uncollectible.

DAVID SMITH.

Subscribed and sworn to before me by David Smith, this July 20th, 1908.

G. L. CAMPBELL,

Clerk Christian County Court.

And this is a full and complete settlement of every dollar of dog taxes collected by me. I collected $2,845.00 dog taxes out of a total amount of $3,791.00. The balance of $942.00 is largely against poor people, and some of it against people who never owned a dog. I was turned out of office without a chance to collect any more. Any one can verify the truth of this statement by going to the records in the County Clerk's office, which show that this is the delinquent list and nothing more. I have settled for every dollar collected by me and any letters or telegrams from the auditor's office to the contrary on the eve of the election are merely for the benefit of Prowse and Renshaw. DAVID SMITH.

Yesterday morning a further refutation came from an unexpected source, in a telegram from the Republican auditor, which is given below:

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 1, '08.

DAVID SMITH, EX-SHERIFF:

I see they are using in this election your failure to settle the dog tax in full. Court exonerations for what you can't collect is all I want. There are forty sheriffs that have not settled. I stand for "A square deal."

F. P. JAMES, Auditor.

The complete fall down on this charge has convinced many that there was nothing in any of the charges lodged against the Democratic candidate, and he is going to receive the votes of that large class of voters, in all parties, who demand "A Square Deal."

WHERE TO VOTE.

Locations Of The Six City Polling Places.

- No. 1—Circuit court room.
- No. 2—West & Co's warehouse east side Campbell street.
- No. 3—Dabney's warehouse, Campbell street, Cor. 3rd Ave.
- No. 4—Moynon's Hall (up stairs.)
- No. 5—Vaughn's stable, Elm St.
- No. 6—Cooper Building, 309 S. Main.

Polls open at 6 A. M. and close at 4 P. M.

Divorce Granted.

Mrs. Edith May Ragsdale has been granted a divorce from her husband, L. C. Ragsdale, and given the custody of their two children.

Kicked by a Mule.

Mr. C. W. Smithson, of the Howell neighborhood, was kicked on the right hand by a mule a few days ago and quite painfully hurt.

ELECTION NEWS

No Arrangements For Associated Press Telegrams.

Up to yesterday afternoon no arrangements had been made for telegraphic news from either telegraph office. The Democrats have been in the habit of making up a fund for the news service, but this time they will rely upon private telephone messages from news centers. The Republicans are evidently unwilling to invest good money in Democratic victories.

Victim of Consumption.

The wife of Mr. Charles Jordan died of consumption Sunday at her home, No. 518 North Clay street after a long illness. The interment took place in Riverside Cemetery yesterday afternoon.

Betting odds against Bryan dropped yesterday in New York from 5 to 1 to 2 to 1.

PROBES FOR THE PRIZERS

Chairman Barker Urges That Responsibility For Bad Condition be Fixed.

SOMEBODY TO BLAME.

The County Committee Held a Well Attended Monthly Meeting.

The county committee of the Planters Association met yesterday in the city court room and an interesting meeting was held at which much business was transacted.

Chairman J. L. Barker presided and nearly all of the members were present.

One of the most important questions discussed was the responsibility for the damages resulting to the farmers from regrading their tobacco.

Dr. Barker declared that all instances of regrading should be probed into. If the tobacco had been improperly fired and failed to pass through the sweat safely, the fault was on the farmer. If it was found to be poorly classified, or of unequal lengths in the same sample, the prizer could be held responsible.

He asked that everyone make himself a committee of one to investigate and report to him and he would see that the complaints, if there were such, were laid before Mr. Ewing for adjustment. He said no prizer had ever been penalized for mistakes in pricing and a close scrutiny into this matter was needed.

At the afternoon session routine matters were taken up and a number of grievances were inquired into growing out of the regrading of tobacco.

The election of a salesman and other county officials and agents was postponed until a called meeting, the date of which will be fixed later.

There will be a hot fight for all of the places to be filled.

Court Adjourns.

Circuit court adjourned Saturday until Wednesday of this week. The case of Gano Warder, charged with night riding, was continued until the fourth day of the February term.

Call 319 before you have that room papered. Can save you half the price.

OCT. 12
Lucky Date

The above date was the one contained in the envelope opened at our store, yesterday (Monday) morning at 10 o'clock. Present your ticket NOW dated OCT. 12, after the 16th they are worthless.

W. T. Cooper & Co.,
Wholesale and Retail Grocers.

COME AND SEE

A Large and Well Assorted Stock of

Plain and Fancy Silks,
Dress Goods and Trimmings
Cloaks, Jackets and Furs
Carpets, Rugs, Matting
Linoleums and Oilcloths
Ladies and Mens Un'wear

Each and every line is complete at prices to suit all. I carry a full line of the celebrated Waynu Hosiery. Try them and you will be pleased.

T. M. JONES.

BANK OF HOPKINSVILLE

CAPITAL . . . $100,000.00.

SURPLUS . . . 35,000.00.

With the largest combined capital and surplus of any bank in Christian county, supplied with modern burglar proof safe and vault, we are prepared to offer our depositors every protection for their money.

3 per cent interest on Time Certificates of Deposit.

HENRY C. CANT, President.

J. E. McPHERSON, Cashier.

H. L. McPHERSON, Assistant Cashier.

E. B. LONG, President. W. T. TANDY, Cashier.

CITY BANK

Capital, $60,000.00
Surplus, $75,000.00

This Bank ranks among the first in the state of Kentucky in proportion of surplus to capital.

In Surplus there is Strength.

We invite your account as a safe depository for your funds. Deposit your valuable papers in our vault—safe from fire and burglars.

3 PER CENT. INTEREST ON TIME DEPOSITS

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

HOPKINSVILLE KENTUCKY.

UNITED STATES DEPOSITORY

Only National Bank in This Community

Capital.....$75,000.00
Surplus.....25,000.00
Stockholders' Liability.....75,000.00

HAS A REGULAR SAVINGS DEPARTMENT

Three Per Cent Interest Paid on Savings and Time Deposit

J. F. GARNETT, Pres. JNO. B. TRICE, Cashier.
T. J. McINTYRE, V. P. F. W. DABNEY, V. P.

PLANTERS BANK & TRUST CO.

CAPITAL.....$100,000.00.
SURPLUS AND PROFITS $16,000.00.

Thoroughly equipped for Banking and Trust Business. Open account and let us show you.

Loans and investments made. Acts as Adm'r, Exr. Trustee, Guardian, Agent, Receiver, etc. Buys and sells Real Estate, and Manages Property. Safe Fire and Burglar proof vaults.

3 Per Cent. Interest on Time Certificates.

The Sheet Anchor.

"That was my sheet anchor"—I, e., my best hope, my last refuge—the sheet anchor of a ship, which in stress of weather is the sailors' chief dependence. The word sheet is a corruption of the word shot (thrown out), meaning the anchor "thrown out" in foul weather. The Greeks and Romans said, "My sacred anchor," referring to the sheet anchor, which was always dedicated to some god.

The Oratory of Galleries.

The oldest Christian structure in Ireland is a remarkable building, evidently very ancient, but wonderfully well preserved, at Dingle, in County Kerry. It is popularly known as the "Oratory of Galleries." Who Galleries was history does not say, but the oratory has stood practically uninjured for more than 1,000 years, he was probably one of the converts of St. Patrick.—London Standard Review.

An Honest Horse.

An Irish dealer when selling a nag to a gentleman frequently observed with emphatic earnestness that he was an honest horse. After the purchase had been effected the gentleman asked him what he meant by an honest horse.

"Why, sir," replied the seller, "when ever I rode him he always threatened to throw me off, and he certainly never deceived me."—London Mail.

"Is Jimson selfish?"

"Well, they say he has never given his ego cause for a moment's jealousy."—London Mail.

Pineules for the Kidneys, 30 days' trial $1.00. Hundreds of people testify to the merit of this preparation in the relief of kidney trouble, rheumatism, lumbago, backache. Pineules act directly on the kidneys, purify the blood and make you feel like a new person. They tone the system. Sold by Anderson-Fowler Drug Co., Incorporated.

Search for Beauty is Old.

Women even in the time of Pepsy took care of their complexion, as he sets down in his diary the fact that his wife and Jane went down to Woolwich to get the May dew, with which to wash their faces, and later tells of her rising at three o'clock in the morning to go forth for May dew while he lay troubled lest harm come to her at that early hour.

Earthquakes Cause Panic.

Several earthquake shocks have been felt recently in the Congo district, Africa. There have been no casualties, but the natives were panic-stricken. Many of them ran for miles and refused to return to their villages unless they received guns and ammunition.

To those afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble, backache, rheumatism, Pineules for the Kidneys bring relief in the first few days. Hundreds of people today testify to their remarkable healing and tonic properties. 30 days' trial $1.00. They purify the blood. Sold by Anderson-Fowler Drug Co., Incorporated.

Best Way to Tie Shoe-Laces.

A way to keep shoe-laces tied in to make a bow in the ordinary way, then insert a buttonhook underneath the center of the bow and draw one loop and one end through (underneath), thus turning the bow practically upside down. Or draw one loop through the other and pull the "answering" end, so that the loops are knotted.

Taking Advantage.

An Aftonian man with a few drinks to the bad went into a store the other day and tried to cheat off. A lady clerk didn't do a thing to him but he extra nice and sell him stuff he had no use for whatever.—Aftonian Globe.

Bees Laxative Cough Syrup always brings quick relief to coughs, colds, hoarseness, whooping cough and all bronchial and throat trouble. Mothers especially recommend it for children, as it is pleasant to take. It is gently laxative. Should be in every home. Guaranteed. Sold by Anderson-Fowler Drug Co., Incorporated.

British Working Women.

Out of a total of 307,157 workers in clothing factories, in Great Britain 197,430 are women and the total number 45,972 to 13,984 men.

To the Farmers.

I am prepared to furnish you Ground Lime Stone—both the meal and flour—at the mill or f. o. b. cars Julien, Ky. G. H. STOWE, Hopkinsville, Ky., R. F. D. 4. Phone 287-2.

Music.

We love music for the buried hopes, the garnered memories, the tender feelings it can summon at a touch.—Lettia Elizabeth Landon.

Engine For Sale.

For sale, a good second hand gasoline engine, 24 horse power. Fairbanks-Morse make, overhauled and in good running order. Will sell at a great bargain. May be seen at

M. H. McGREW, Machine Shop

Corner 8th and Clay Sts.

A division of time will be granted Mr. Stanley's op-

MAN SUICIDED

When He Found Wedding Could Not Be Set Aside.

Paris, Ky., Oct. 28.—J. W. Hutchison, of Harrison county, a widower with two children, was married here yesterday to Mrs. Nannie C. Swinford, of Cynthia, and this afternoon killed himself in a lively stable here.

Hutchison and Mrs. Swinford arrived here yesterday about 5 o'clock from Cynthia and were married shortly afterwards by the Rev. M. T. Chanler, of the Methodist church. They returned to Cynthia this morning Hutchison came back to Paris and made an attempt to have the marriage set aside. Finding he was unable to do this he went to the lively stable where he had placed his horse and buggy and fired a bullet through his brain.

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Williams

WAS MUZZLED.

Not Allowed To Speak At Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 28.—Emma Goldman was led from the capitol building here when she was about to address a large audience that had assembled at a fashionable club house to hear her. Twenty police men were on hand when she arrived and as she stepped into the hall she was told that she would not be permitted to speak in this city. She demurred at first, but the officers gathered around and she was informed that she would have to go to the police station if she persisted. She did not make any further resistance. Ben L. Reitman, who was with her, attempted to speak on a corner near the capitol building, but the police forced him to desist under threat of locking him up.

Wood's Liver Medicine is in liquid form for malaria, chills and fever, regulates the liver, kidneys and bladder, brings quick relief to biliousness, sick-headache, constipation. Pleasant to take. The $1.00 bottle contains 24 times the quantity of the 50c size. First dose brings relief. Its tonic effects felt at once. Sold by Anderson-Fowler Drug Co., Incorporated.

GUTHRIE MAN

Purchases Fine Stock Farm In Tennessee.

J. W. Rankin, of Guthrie, has purchased the Peytonia stock farm, near Gallatin, Tenn. The consideration was $25,000. The farm contains 230 acres, near St. Blaise and adjoining Fair View.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Williams

Miccough.

A newspaper quotation claims that relief from miccough can be obtained by holding the arms straight above the head, and keeping up inspiration as long as possible so as to revitalize the air in the lungs for a long time.

Manzan Pile Remedy comes ready to use with nozzles attached. Soothers, heals, reduces itching and inflammation. An operation for piles will not be necessary if you use Manzan. Price 50c. Money refunded if not satisfied. Sold by Anderson-Fowler Drug Co., Incorporated.

Recruiting by Women. A new and profitable vocation for women is suggested by the statement of Col. Walsh, in command of St. George's barracks recruiting station, that females are eligible as recruiting agents for the army.—London Woman.

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Williams

Cornell's Veil.

The essayist and class poet at Cornell this year are both girls. Will Cornell's cry have to be changed some day to: "Cornell—I scream!"—Boston Globe.

Announcement.

We are authorized to announce J. M. Rendall as a candidate for the office of sheriff of Christian county, Kentucky, on the Republican ticket. Election November 3, 1908.

Wholesale and Retail Grocers.

For Woman's Eye

J-18

Women's troubles very often occur regularly at a certain time every month. Because this may have been so all your life, is no reason why it should continue. Many thousands of women, who had previously suffered from troubles similar to yours, due to disorder of the womanly organs, have found welcome relief or cure in that wonderfully successful medicine for women,

Wine of Cardui

Mrs. Lecta Fort, of Toledo, Ill., writes: "I am well pleased with the results of using Cardui. I have taken three bottles and am now perfectly well, free from pain and have gained 25 pounds in weight."

WRITE US A LETTER

Write today for a free copy of valuable 64-page illustrated Book for Women. If you need Medical Advice, describe your symptoms, stating age and reply will be sent to plain, sealed envelope. Address: Ladies Advisory Dept., The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

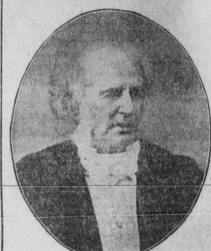

Magazine Notices.

VANDERBILT WAS 70 Years Old Before He Made His Fortune.

[Burton J. Hendrick in McClure's Magazine for November.]

The Vanderbilt fortune, once the greatest financial power in the United States, probably amounts, at the present moment, to not far from $300,000,000. Of this, William Kissam Vanderbilt, who controls the majority of the family properties, holds in the neighborhood of $100,000,000, while twelve or fifteen descendants of the Commodore share among themselves the remaining $200,000,000.

Perhaps the most remarkable fact in the whole remarkable career of Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt is that he did his really important work and heaped up his enormous fortune after he was seventy years old. He was born in 1794, and almost all his energies, until the outbreak of the Civil War, had been absorbed in the management of his numerous steamboat and steamship lines.

COMMODORE CORNELIUS VANDERBILT. Founder of the great Vanderbilt fortune, which is the subject of an interesting article by Burton J. Hendrick.

Cornelius Vanderbilt, when running his steamboats up and down the Hudson River, had felt keenly the competition of the railroad along its eastern shore. Later developments led him clearly to perceive, what most of his contemporaries saw only faintly, that transportation in this country would follow the line, not of the canal and the river, but of the steel rail. As soon as he had caught this glimpse of the future, Vanderbilt characteristically acted upon it. Fifty years before, foreseeing the possibilities of steam travel by water, he had sold his whole sailing fleet and purchased steamboats; acting just as promptly now, he sold all his water craft and began purchasing railroads.

The November American Magazine is a periodical without a dull line in it. The leading feature is a character sketch of the Sultan of Turkey, who, according to the author of this article, is so base that he will not only allow thieves and grafters to wreck his country, but will commit murder with his own hand. Evidently the wave of democratic ideas which is sweeping over the world is drowning out in Turkey as fine a band of pirates as ever practiced the art of oppression.

In the same number Ida M. Tarbell begins a series of two articles entitled, "How Chicago is Finding Herself." She calls Chicago the most wonderful and inspiring city in the United States. Otis Skinner, the actor, reports the story of how Edwin Booth, in the dead of night, burned the papers and costumes which had belonged to his brother, John Wilkes Booth. Dr. William Lee Howard, writing on "Helpless Youth and Useless Men," advocates the separation of boys from girls in our high schools. "The Interpreter" presents an ingratiating character hypnotism, with unexpected results.

Leading features of McClure's Magazine for November are: "The Fight for a New Navy," an article showing that steps have been taken to correct the mistakes in the construction of our battleships which were pointed out in McClure's a year ago; "Fire—An American Extravagance," by F. W. Fitzpatrick, who says that we burn down almost as fast as we build; "What Organized Labor Wants," an interview with Samuel Gompers by George Kibbe Turner, and a history of "The Vanderbilt Fortune," by Burton J. Hendrick.

Are Book Reviews New?

There seems to be a difference of opinion among editors as to whether the appearance of an important new book is an event deserving of any mention in a crowded newspaper. Is the review of a good novel or a great history a matter of real public interest? The Chicago Record-Herald is one of the comparatively few newspapers that answers the question in the affirmative by printing reviews and news of the latest books every day in the week. It believes that its readers are intelligent men and women, who wish to keep up with the world's literary events, as well as with other important news. It's literary department, under the editorship of Edwin L. Shuman, is generally acknowledged to be the most ably conducted in the West. Mr. Shuman's reviews are sought and quoted all over the country, and so are those of his brilliant corps of assistants. Walter Littlefield's news letters from New York every Saturday keeps The Record-Herald's readers informed on all the forthcoming books of importance, and a cable dispatch from London every Sunday gives the latest book news of the English capital. Thus by covering the literary events of the world as thoroughly as those of every other field The Record-Herald has become the leading authority in that line west of New York. It is not strange that people of literary taste prefer it to Tennessee.

ANOTHER UNFORTUNATE Victim of Football is Recorded in State of Utah.

Logan, Utah, Oct. 28.—The first death of the season caused by football in this State occurred here yesterday when Thomas Evans, and rush of the Utah Agricultural College eleven, succumbed to injuries received in a game with the Colorado School of Mines Saturday. Evans was injured in a fierce scrimmage and was taken unconscious to a hospital. Surgeons performed an operation and discovered that the player's neck was broken. He is a resident of Brigham City.

Hands cracked and bruised, from husking, skin diseases, tan, freckles, curls relieved at once with Pinesale Carbolized (acts like a poultice). Draws out inflammation. Price 25c. Sold by Anderson-Fowler Drug Co., Incorporated.

Pineules For the Kidneys, Bladder and Rheumatism. RELIEVES BACK-ACHE

30 days' treatment for $1.00. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded

For Sale by Anderson-Fowler Drug Co., Incorporated.

CHOICE BARGAINS!

Some Fine Offers in Farm Lands and Town Lots.

505 acres, 10 miles south of town, on the Clarksville pike, and close to R. R. station on the I. C. road, near school house, and with all modern improvements. This is as fine a body of land as you can find anywhere, and produces large quantities of wheat, corn, hay and tobacco. Has 40 to 50 acres fine timber, 4 tobacco barns, 1 large stock barn, 1 hay shed, 8 cabins, windmill and tank, and all improvements necessary to a first class farm. If you are looking for something extra at a bargain don't fail to see this place.

309 acres near Bell, Ky. This is a well improved farm, and just what you are looking for. Splendid dwelling, good stable and large tobacco barns and all other out buildings. 40 acres good timber, balance in a high state of cultivation.

18 acres just outside the corporate limits of Hopkinsville, splendid house and all necessary out buildings. Just the very best place you know of to raise chickens and run a garden and fruit farm.

We have some very desirable homes for sale on the best residence streets in the city and at real bargain figures.

A right new modern cottage for sale or rent on 13th street, in the old Sharp addition.

Another one at a bargain on West 18th St.

Also some desirable building lots in different parts of the city at ridiculously low prices.

Call and see us if you are interested in a good home, either in the city or country. Now is the time to buy good property at prices that appeal to your pocket-book.

If you are looking for a good established business, well located, we have got just what you are looking for, and at the right price.

Planters Bank & Trust Co.

Who's Who' In the Story.

"SATAN" SANDERSON, the hero, dare-devil, quixotic friend and minister of the Gospel.

HUGH STIRES, prodigal and criminal.

JESSICA HOLME, the beautiful heroine, helpless in the rush of events and the principal sufferer in a case of mild identity.

MRS. HALLORAN, the camp owner.

DAVID STIRES, stern, yet forgiving, and at the last made happy by another's unhappiness.

THE BISHOP, the victim of a misunderstanding.

HALELUJAH JONES, the religious fanatic on whose shoulders rests the whole weight of the story.

EMMET PRENDERGAST, the false friend, perjurer and thief.

THE SHERIFF, who is very much divided between duty and inclination.

"BIG" DEVIL, who turns champion instead of prosecutor after the hero's race with death.

(CONTINUED.)

Another moment and he was leaning forward, his eyes fixed, his breath straining at his throat. For each word of the speaker now was knocking a sledge hammer blow upon the blank wall in his brain. Halelujah Jones had launched into the recital of a story which, though the stern charge of a bishop had kept him silent as to name of locality, yet, possessing the vividness of an actual experience, had lost little in the telling. It was the tale of an evening when he had peered through the tilted window of a chapel and seen its dissolute floor gambling on the table of the Lord.

The words shrieked themselves through Harry's brain. Harry Sanderson, not Hugh Stires!

Not a criminal, thief and forger! The curtain was rent. The dead wall in his brain was down, and the real past swept over him in an unguaranteed flood. Halelujah Jones had furnished the clew to the maze. His story was the very last great wave, which had crumbled all at once the cliff of oblivion that the normal process of the recovered mind had been steadily undermining. Harry Sanderson had lost his past and all of puzzlement and distress that it had held.

Shaking in every limb and feeling all along the courthouse wall like a drunk man, he made his way to the further deserted street. A passerby would have shrunk at sight of his face and his burning eyes.

For these months he, the Rev. Henry Sanderson, disgraced, had suffered deeply, had been sunk out of sight and touch and hearing like a stone in a pool. For these months—through an accidental facial resemblance and a fortuitous concurrence of circumstances—he had owned the name and identity of Hugh Stires.

How could he tell her now? Yet she was the real Hugh's wife by law and right. He himself could not marry her. If God would but turn back the universe and give him yesterday!

His feet dragging as though from cold, he climbed the mountain road. As he walked he took from his pocket the little gold cross, and his fingers, numb with misery, tied it to his throat watch guard. It had been only a babe, a pocket piece acquired he knew not when or how. Now he knew it for the badge of his calling. He remembered now that, pressed a certain way, it would open, and engraved inside were his name and the date of his ordination.

He might shut the cabin door, but he could not forbid the torturer that came with him across the threshold. He might throw himself upon his knees and bury his face in the rough skin of the couch, but he could not shut out words that blent in golden lettered flashes across his throbbing eyeballs. "Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife."

So he crouched, a man under whose feet life had crashed, leaving him pinned beneath the wreck to watch the fire that must creep nearer and nearer.

Curiosity had Jessica until the evangelist closed his melodious preparatory to a descent upon the dance hall. Then, as he followed, treadng noiselessly, till she was close behind them. They had stopped again and were looking intently at a shadowy gray something that moved in the bottom below.

A little way up the ascent a cumbersome shadow started here. She saw in a moment that it was the automobile, halted at the side of the road. Her footsteps made no sound, and she was close upon it when she saw the three men it had carried standing near by. She made to pass them and had crossed half the intervening space, when some instinct sent her to the shade of the trees. They had stopped opposite the hydraulic concession, where a side path left the main road. It was the same path by which she and August Prendergast had taken their unconscious burden on a night long ago, leading along the hillside, overlooking the snake-like fume and forming a steeper short cut to the cabin above. They were conversing in low tones, and as they talked they pointed, she thought, toward it.

Jessica had never in her life been an eavesdropper, but her excited senses

She heard the man who carried the rifle say, with a smothered laugh: "It's only Barney McGinn's old white horse taking a drink out of the sluice box. He often does that."

Then the sheriff's voice said: "McGinn's horse is in town tonight, with Barney on her back. Horse or no horse, I'm going to— The rest was lost in the swift action with which he snatched the stream from the first speaker, elated and fired.

In the still night the concussion seemed to rock the ground and roused a hundred echoes. It startled and shocked the listening girl, but not so much as the sound that followed it—a cry that had nothing animal about it, that sent the men running down the slope toward an object that lay huddled by the sluice box.

In horrified curiosity Jessica followed, slipping from shadow to shadow. She saw the sheriff kneel down and draw a collapsed and empty horse-skin from a figure whose thieving cunning it would never occur again.

"So it was you, after all, Prendergast!" the sheriff said contemptuously. The white face stared up at them, venomous and writhing, turning about the circle as though searching for some one who was not there.

"How did you guess?"

The sheriff, who had been making a swift examination, answered the pointed question. "You have no time to think of that now," he said.

A sinister look darted into the dimming yellow eyes, and hatred and certainty replaced them. Prendergast struggled to a sitting posture, then fell back, convulsed. "Hugh Stires!" He was the only one who knew—how it was done. He's clever, but he can't get the best of Prendergast!" A spasm distorted his features. "Wait—wait!"

He fumbled in his breast, and his fingers brought forth a crumpled piece of paper. He thrust it into the sheriff's hands.

"Look! Look!" he gasped. "The man they found murdered on the claim there!" he pointed widely up the hillside—"Dr. Moreau. I found him dying!"

Strength was fast failing him. He tried again to speak, but only inarticulate sounds came from his throat.

A blind terror had clutched the heart of the girl leaning from the shadow. "Dr. Moreau—"murdered?" Why, he had been one of Hugh's friends! What did this man couple Hugh's name with that worst of crimes? What dreadful thing was he trying to tell? She hardly repressed a desire to scream aloud.

"Be careful what you say, after all, Prendergast," said the sheriff sternly.

The wretched man gathered force for a last effort. His voice came in a croaking whisper from his throat.

"It was Stires killed him. Moreau wrote it down—and I kept the paper. Tell Hugh—we break even!"

He lurched toward the table and leaned upon it. "I've always heard that the devil took care of his own. The runaway rector tumbles on my manor, and, with his usual luck—Satan's luck we called it at college—steps in just in time to strike it rich."

He stretched his hand suddenly and caught a tiny object that glittered against Harry's coat—the little gold cross which the other had tied to his watch guard. The thought passed, and Hugh sent the pendant rattling across the doorway.

"You were something of a howling swell as a person," he said insolently, "but you don't need the jewelry now!"

Harry Sanderson's eyes had not left Hugh's face. He was thinking swiftly. The bolt from the blue had been so recent that this sudden apparition seemed a natural concomitant of the situation. Only the problem was no longer imminent. It was upon him. Jessica was not for him—he had accepted that. Though the clock might not turn backward, this man must stand between them. Yet his presence now in the predicament was intolerable.

"Well," said Hugh, with a sneer, "what have you got to say?"

"How much will you take for the property?"

"That's your game, is it? But I'm not such a dumk! Whatever you could offer, it's worth more to me. I know you, Satan Sanderson," he sneered, "you were always the same precious hypocrite in the old days, pretending to be so almighty virtuous, while you looked out for No. 1. I saw through you then, too, when you were posing as my friend and trying your best all along to queer me with the old man! I knew it well enough. I knew what the reason was too! You wanted Jessica! You—"

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

Rings Little Liver Pills for biliousness, sick headache, muddy complexion. They tone the liver; do not gripe. They keep you well. 25c. Sold by Anderson-Fowler Drug Co., Incorporated.

Chapter 25

W HILE the man whom the town knew as Hugh Stires listened to the tale of the street preacher, another, unlike yet curiously like him in feature, had slowly climbed the hillside from the north by the sanitarium road. He walked with a jaunty swagger, head of too frequent applications to a flask in his pocket.

As he walked unsteadily along Hugh drank more than once from the flask to deaden the superstitious dread of the place which was stealing over him. On the crest of the ridge he skirted the sanitarium grounds and at length gained the road that twisted downward toward the lights of the town. In the dubious moonlight he mistook the narrow trail to the Knob for the lower path to the cabin. As he turned into it the report of a rifle came faintly from the gulch below.

He quickened his steps and stumbled all at once into the little clearing that held the new made grave and Jessica's statue. The sight terrified his intoxicated imagination. His hair rose. The name on the headstone was Stires, and he was himself—no, a ghost of himself—sitting near! He turned and broke into a run down the steep slope. In his fear—he imagined the white figure was pursuing him—he tripped and fell, regained his feet, rushed across the level space, threw his weight against the cabin door and burst into the room.

A dog sprang up with a growl, and in the light of the fire that burned on the hearth a man sitting at the rough hewn table lifted a haggard face from his arms, and each recognized the other.

The ghost was gone now before fire-light and human presence, and Hugh, with a loud laugh of tipsy incredulity, stood staring at the man before him.

"Harry Sanderson!" he cried. His shifty eyes surveyed the other's figure—the corduroys, the high laced boots, the soft blue flannel shirt. "Not exactly in purple and fine linen," he said. The impudent swagger of intoxication had slipped over him again, and his boisterous laugh was laden with a hiccup. "I thought the gospel game was about played out that night in the chapel. And now you are willing to take a hint from the prodigal. How did you find my nest? And perhaps you can tell me who has been making himself so at home here lately?"

"I have," said Harry evenly.

Hugh's glance, that had been wavering about the next interior, returned to Harry, and knowledge and anger leaped into it. "So it was you, was it? You are the one who has been trying his hand as a claim jumper!" He lurched toward the table and leaned upon it. "I've always heard that the devil took care of his own. The runaway rector tumbles on my manor, and, with his usual luck—Satan's luck we called it at college—steps in just in time to strike it rich."

He stretched his hand suddenly and caught a tiny object that glittered against Harry's coat—the little gold cross which the other had tied to his watch guard. The thought passed, and Hugh sent the pendant rattling across the doorway.

"You were something of a howling swell as a person," he said insolently, "but you don't need the jewelry now!"

Harry Sanderson's eyes had not left Hugh's face. He was thinking swiftly. The bolt from the blue had been so recent that this sudden apparition seemed a natural concomitant of the situation. Only the problem was no longer imminent. It was upon him. Jessica was not for him—he had accepted that. Though the clock might not turn backward, this man must stand between them. Yet his presence now in the predicament was intolerable.

"Well," said Hugh, with a sneer, "what have you got to say?"

"How much will you take for the property?"

"That's your game, is it? But I'm not such a dumk! Whatever you could offer, it's worth more to me. I know you, Satan Sanderson," he sneered, "you were always the same precious hypocrite in the old days, pretending to be so almighty virtuous, while you looked out for No. 1. I saw through you then, too, when you were posing as my friend and trying your best all along to queer me with the old man! I knew it well enough. I knew what the reason was too! You wanted Jessica! You—"

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

Rings Little Liver Pills for biliousness, sick headache, muddy complexion. They tone the liver; do not gripe. They keep you well. 25c. Sold by Anderson-Fowler Drug Co., Incorporated.

Chapter 25

W HILE the man whom the town knew as Hugh Stires listened to the tale of the street preacher, another, unlike yet curiously like him in feature, had slowly climbed the hillside from the north by the sanitarium road. He walked with a jaunty swagger, head of too frequent applications to a flask in his pocket.

As he walked unsteadily along Hugh drank more than once from the flask to deaden the superstitious dread of the place which was stealing over him. On the crest of the ridge he skirted the sanitarium grounds and at length gained the road that twisted downward toward the lights of the town. In the dubious moonlight he mistook the narrow trail to the Knob for the lower path to the cabin. As he turned into it the report of a rifle came faintly from the gulch below.

He quickened his steps and stumbled all at once into the little clearing that held the new made grave and Jessica's statue. The sight terrified his intoxicated imagination. His hair rose. The name on the headstone was Stires, and he was himself—no, a ghost of himself—sitting near! He turned and broke into a run down the steep slope. In his fear—he imagined the white figure was pursuing him—he tripped and fell, regained his feet, rushed across the level space, threw his weight against the cabin door and burst into the room.

A dog sprang up with a growl, and in the light of the fire that burned on the hearth a man sitting at the rough hewn table lifted a haggard face from his arms, and each recognized the other.

The ghost was gone now before fire-light and human presence, and Hugh, with a loud laugh of tipsy incredulity, stood staring at the man before him.

"Harry Sanderson!" he cried. His shifty eyes surveyed the other's figure—the corduroys, the high laced boots, the soft blue flannel shirt. "Not exactly in purple and fine linen," he said. The impudent swagger of intoxication had slipped over him again, and his boisterous laugh was laden with a hiccup. "I thought the gospel game was about played out that night in the chapel. And now you are willing to take a hint from the prodigal. How did you find my nest? And perhaps you can tell me who has been making himself so at home here lately?"

"I have," said Harry evenly.

Hugh's glance, that had been wavering about the next interior, returned to Harry, and knowledge and anger leaped into it. "So it was you, was it? You are the one who has been trying his hand as a claim jumper!" He lurched toward the table and leaned upon it. "I've always heard that the devil took care of his own. The runaway rector tumbles on my manor, and, with his usual luck—Satan's luck we called it at college—steps in just in time to strike it rich."

He stretched his hand suddenly and caught a tiny object that glittered against Harry's coat—the little gold cross which the other had tied to his watch guard. The thought passed, and Hugh sent the pendant rattling across the doorway.

"You were something of a howling swell as a person," he said insolently, "but you don't need the jewelry now!"

Harry Sanderson's eyes had not left Hugh's face. He was thinking swiftly. The bolt from the blue had been so recent that this sudden apparition seemed a natural concomitant of the situation. Only the problem was no longer imminent. It was upon him. Jessica was not for him—he had accepted that. Though the clock might not turn backward, this man must stand between them. Yet his presence now in the predicament was intolerable.

"Well," said Hugh, with a sneer, "what have you got to say?"

"How much will you take for the property?"

"That's your game, is it? But I'm not such a dumk! Whatever you could offer, it's worth more to me. I know you, Satan Sanderson," he sneered, "you were always the same precious hypocrite in the old days, pretending to be so almighty virtuous, while you looked out for No. 1. I saw through you then, too, when you were posing as my friend and trying your best all along to queer me with the old man! I knew it well enough. I knew what the reason was too! You wanted Jessica! You—"

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

Rings Little Liver Pills for biliousness, sick headache, muddy complexion. They tone the liver; do not gripe. They keep you well. 25c. Sold by Anderson-Fowler Drug Co., Incorporated.

Chapter 25

W HILE the man whom the town knew as Hugh Stires listened to the tale of the street preacher, another, unlike yet curiously like him in feature, had slowly climbed the hillside from the north by the sanitarium road. He walked with a jaunty swagger, head of too frequent applications to a flask in his pocket.

As he walked unsteadily along Hugh drank more than once from the flask to deaden the superstitious dread of the place which was stealing over him. On the crest of the ridge he skirted the sanitarium grounds and at length gained the road that twisted downward toward the lights of the town. In the dubious moonlight he mistook the narrow trail to the Knob for the lower path to the cabin. As he turned into it the report of a rifle came faintly from the gulch below.

He quickened his steps and stumbled all at once into the little clearing that held the new made grave and Jessica's statue. The sight terrified his intoxicated imagination. His hair rose. The name on the headstone was Stires, and he was himself—no, a ghost of himself—sitting near! He turned and broke into a run down the steep slope. In his fear—he imagined the white figure was pursuing him—he tripped and fell, regained his feet, rushed across the level space, threw his weight against the cabin door and burst into the room.

A dog sprang up with a growl, and in the light of the fire that burned on the hearth a man sitting at the rough hewn table lifted a haggard face from his arms, and each recognized the other.

The ghost was gone now before fire-light and human presence, and Hugh, with a loud laugh of tipsy incredulity, stood staring at the man before him.

"Harry Sanderson!" he cried. His shifty eyes surveyed the other's figure—the corduroys, the high laced boots, the soft blue flannel shirt. "Not exactly in purple and fine linen," he said. The impudent swagger of intoxication had slipped over him again, and his boisterous laugh was laden with a hiccup. "I thought the gospel game was about played out that night in the chapel. And now you are willing to take a hint from the prodigal. How did you find my nest? And perhaps you can tell me who has been making himself so at home here lately?"

"I have," said Harry evenly.

Hugh's glance, that had been wavering about the next interior, returned to Harry, and knowledge and anger leaped into it. "So it was you, was it? You are the one who has been trying his hand as a claim jumper!" He lurched toward the table and leaned upon it. "I've always heard that the devil took care of his own. The runaway rector tumbles on my manor, and, with his usual luck—Satan's luck we called it at college—steps in just in time to strike it rich."

He stretched his hand suddenly and caught a tiny object that glittered against Harry's coat—the little gold cross which the other had tied to his watch guard. The thought passed, and Hugh sent the pendant rattling across the doorway.

"You were something of a howling swell as a person," he said insolently, "but you don't need the jewelry now!"

Harry Sanderson's eyes had not left Hugh's face. He was thinking swiftly. The bolt from the blue had been so recent that this sudden apparition seemed a natural concomitant of the situation. Only the problem was no longer imminent. It was upon him. Jessica was not for him—he had accepted that. Though the clock might not turn backward, this man must stand between them. Yet his presence now in the predicament was intolerable.

"Well," said Hugh, with a sneer, "what have you got to say?"

"How much will you take for the property?"

"That's your game, is it? But I'm not such a dumk! Whatever you could offer, it's worth more to me. I know you, Satan Sanderson," he sneered, "you were always the same precious hypocrite in the old days, pretending to be so almighty virtuous, while you looked out for No. 1. I saw through you then, too, when you were posing as my friend and trying your best all along to queer me with the old man! I knew it well enough. I knew what the reason was too! You wanted Jessica! You—"

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

Rings Little Liver Pills for biliousness, sick headache, muddy complexion. They tone the liver; do not gripe. They keep you well. 25c. Sold by Anderson-Fowler Drug Co., Incorporated.

Chapter 25

W HILE the man whom the town knew as Hugh Stires listened to the tale of the street preacher, another, unlike yet curiously like him in feature, had slowly climbed the hillside from the north by the sanitarium road. He walked with a jaunty swagger, head of too frequent applications to a flask in his pocket.

As he walked unsteadily along Hugh drank more than once from the flask to deaden the superstitious dread of the place which was stealing over him. On the crest of the ridge he skirted the sanitarium grounds and at length gained the road that twisted downward toward the lights of the town. In the dubious moonlight he mistook the narrow trail to the Knob for the lower path to the cabin. As he turned into it the report of a rifle came faintly from the gulch below.

He quickened his steps and stumbled all at once into the little clearing that held the new made grave and Jessica's statue. The sight terrified his intoxicated imagination. His hair rose. The name on the headstone was Stires, and he was himself—no, a ghost of himself—sitting near! He turned and broke into a run down the steep slope. In his fear—he imagined the white figure was pursuing him—he tripped and fell, regained his feet, rushed across the level space, threw his weight against the cabin door and burst into the room.

A dog sprang up with a growl, and in the light of the fire that burned on the hearth a man sitting at the rough hewn table lifted a haggard face from his arms, and each recognized the other.

The ghost was gone now before fire-light and human presence, and Hugh, with a loud laugh of tipsy incredulity, stood staring at the man before him.

"Harry Sanderson!" he cried. His shifty eyes surveyed the other's figure—the corduroys, the high laced boots, the soft blue flannel shirt. "Not exactly in purple and fine linen," he said. The impudent swagger of intoxication had slipped over him again, and his boisterous laugh was laden with a hiccup. "I thought the gospel game was about played out that night in the chapel. And now you are willing to take a hint from the prodigal. How did you find my nest? And perhaps you can tell me who has been making himself so at home here lately?"

"I have," said Harry evenly.

Hugh's glance, that had been wavering about the next interior, returned to Harry, and knowledge and anger leaped into it. "So it was you, was it? You are the one who has been trying his hand as a claim jumper!" He lurched toward the table and leaned upon it. "I've always heard that the devil took care of his own. The runaway rector tumbles on my manor, and, with his usual luck—Satan's luck we called it at college—steps in just in time to strike it rich."

He stretched his hand suddenly and caught a tiny object that glittered against Harry's coat—the little gold cross which the other had tied to his watch guard. The thought passed, and Hugh sent the pendant rattling across the doorway.

"You were something of a howling swell as a person," he said insolently, "but you don't need the jewelry now!"

Harry Sanderson's eyes had not left Hugh's face. He was thinking swiftly. The bolt from the blue had been so recent that this sudden apparition seemed a natural concomitant of the situation. Only the problem was no longer imminent. It was upon him. Jessica was not for him—he had accepted that. Though the clock might not turn backward, this man must stand between them. Yet his presence now in the predicament was intolerable.

"Well," said Hugh, with a sneer, "what have you got to say?"

"How much will you take for the property?"

"That's your game, is it? But I'm not such a dumk! Whatever you could offer, it's worth more to me. I know you, Satan Sanderson," he sneered, "you were always the same precious hypocrite in the old days, pretending to be so almighty virtuous, while you looked out for No. 1. I saw through you then, too, when you were posing as my friend and trying your best all along to queer me with the old man! I knew it well enough. I knew what the reason was too! You wanted Jessica! You—"

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

Rings Little Liver Pills for biliousness, sick headache, muddy complexion. They tone the liver; do not gripe. They keep you well. 25c. Sold by Anderson-Fowler Drug Co., Incorporated.

Chapter 25

W HILE the man whom the town knew as Hugh Stires listened to the tale of the street preacher, another, unlike yet curiously like him in feature, had slowly climbed the hillside from the north by the sanitarium road. He walked with a jaunty swagger, head of too frequent applications to a flask in his pocket.

As he walked unsteadily along Hugh drank more than once from the flask to deaden the superstitious dread of the place which was stealing over him. On the crest of the ridge he skirted the sanitarium grounds and at length gained the road that twisted downward toward the lights of the town. In the dubious moonlight he mistook the narrow trail to the Knob for the lower path to the cabin. As he turned into it the report of a rifle came faintly from the gulch below.

He quickened his steps and stumbled all at once into the little clearing that held the new made grave and Jessica's statue. The sight terrified his intoxicated imagination. His hair rose. The name on the headstone was Stires, and he was himself—no, a ghost of himself—sitting near! He turned and broke into a run down the steep slope. In his fear—he imagined the white figure was pursuing him—he tripped and fell, regained his feet, rushed across the level space, threw his weight against the cabin door and burst into the room.

A dog sprang up with a growl, and in the light of the fire that burned on the hearth a man sitting at the rough hewn table lifted a haggard face from his arms, and each recognized the other.

The ghost was gone now before fire-light and human presence, and Hugh, with a loud laugh of tipsy incredulity, stood staring at the man before him.

"Harry Sanderson!" he cried. His shifty eyes surveyed the other's figure—the corduroys, the high laced boots, the soft blue flannel shirt. "Not exactly in purple and fine linen," he said. The impudent swagger of intoxication had slipped over him again, and his boisterous laugh was laden with a hiccup. "I thought the gospel game was about played out that night in the chapel. And now you are willing to take a hint from the prodigal. How did you find my nest? And perhaps you can tell me who has been making himself so at home here lately?"

"I have," said Harry evenly.

Hugh's glance, that had been wavering about the next interior, returned to Harry, and knowledge and anger leaped into it. "So it was you, was it? You are the one who has been trying his hand as a claim jumper!" He lurched toward the table and leaned upon it. "I've always heard that the devil took care of his own. The runaway rector tumbles on my manor, and, with his usual luck—Satan's luck we called it at college—steps in just in time to strike it rich."

He stretched his hand suddenly and caught a tiny object that glittered against Harry's coat—the little gold cross which the other had tied to his watch guard. The thought passed, and Hugh sent the pendant rattling across the doorway.

"You were something of a howling swell as a person," he said insolently, "but you don't need the jewelry now!"

Harry Sanderson's eyes had not left Hugh's face. He was thinking swiftly. The bolt from the blue had been so recent that this sudden apparition seemed a natural concomitant of the situation. Only the problem was no longer imminent. It was upon him. Jessica was not for him—he had accepted that. Though the clock might not turn backward, this man must stand between them. Yet his presence now in the predicament was intolerable.

"Well," said Hugh, with a sneer, "what have you got to say?"

"How much will you take for the property?"

"That's your game, is it? But I'm not such a dumk! Whatever you could offer, it's worth more to me. I know you, Satan Sanderson," he sneered, "you were always the same precious hypocrite in the old days, pretending to be so almighty virtuous, while you looked out for No. 1. I saw through you then, too, when you were posing as my friend and trying your best all along to queer me with the old man! I knew it well enough. I knew what the reason was too! You wanted Jessica! You—"

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

Rings Little Liver Pills for biliousness, sick headache, muddy complexion. They tone the liver; do not gripe. They keep you well. 25c. Sold by Anderson-Fowler Drug Co., Incorporated.

Chapter 25

W HILE the man whom the town knew as Hugh Stires listened to the tale of the street preacher, another, unlike yet curiously like him in

The Kentuckian.

Published Every Other Day,
THURSDAY, THURSDAY AND SATURDAY MORNINGS, BY
CHAS. M. MEACHAM.

Entered at the Postoffice at Hopkinsville, Kentucky, as Second-Class Matter.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

One Year, $2.00
Six Months, $1.00
Three Months, $0.50
Single Copies, 10 Cts.

Change Rates on Application.

212 SOUTH MAIN STREET.

NOV. 9, 1908.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN,
Of Nebraska.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT

JOHN WORTH KERN,
Of Indiana.

FOR CONGRESS

A. O. STANLEY,
Of Henderson.

FOR COUNTY JUDGE,

CHAS. W. MORRISON.

FOR SHERIFF

DAVID SMITH.

The Weather.

FOR KENTUCKY—Partly cloudy and possibly showers in the extreme western portion Tuesday. Moderate temperature.

NOW FOR THE VOTING.

The campaign that will be ended by the contest at the polls to-day, has been remarkable in many ways. Few people believed six months ago that the Democratic party, after twelve years of defeat, could pull itself together and make a fight that will be at least a doubtful contest until the polls close.

The campaign has not been fought out on issues, but on the personal popularity of W. J. Bryan, the waning influence of Theodore Roosevelt and the demand all over the country for a change. Rock ribbed Republican states have been made so doubtful by these influences that the election will be decided by three states that four years ago gave the Republican ticket a majority of 224,000. All three of these states—New York, Ohio and Indiana—are so doubtful that the election of Democratic Governors in all of them is conceded and a stupendous slush fund has been turned loose in the desperate effort to save the states for Taft.

Democrats are hopeful and confident and the Republicans are alarmed and boastful. In New York the Democrats have no newspaper support, except from one paper. The Herald makes a final claim of 306 votes for Taft, but the best posted correspondent in the country, Walter Wellman, claims 290 for Taft, including New York by 30,000, but he adds that his estimate is not based on any real poll, but is at best a guess that may be upset by any one of several things. No one knows how the election will go. There are so many doubtful states, that the general result may be decided by some local issue in an unexpected quarter. Kentucky for instance may go Republican when the rest of the country is swept by a landslide. This, however, would be a surprise to both sides, as all estimates give the state to Bryan by a safe majority.

Let every Democrat try to avert such a calamity as a Republican victory in Kentucky.

Hon. A. O. Stanley's last speech of the campaign, was made at Pembroke yesterday to a good crowd of enthusiastic Democrats.

Rockefeller and Carnegie, the trust magnates, declared for Taft last week, much to the disgust of the "Big Chief."

Take your registration certificate with you.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out, and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous lining.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Mail's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular free.

J. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

TO AID LABOR

Employees, Postoffice Co-operates With Immigration Bureau.

Postmaster Breathitt has received an order from the Postmaster General directing a card, which is described below, to be placed in every rural letter box on the seven rural routes leading out of Hopkinsville. The card is for the information of employers of labor and is authorized by an act of Congress to promote a beneficial distribution of admitted aliens and other persons seeking employment, and all persons who are able to secure necessary help (farm laborers, common laborers, mechanics, etc.) could obtain an application blank by detaching and mailing the attached card (which requires no postage), indicating thereon the kind of labor needed, and that officers in charge of this particular work will exercise every precaution in selecting suitable men and directing them to destination, that no charge is made or fee accepted either from employer or employee. The postal card is directed to the division of information, Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization, Department of Commerce and Labor, Washington, D. C., and his name to the postmaster and to state the kind of employment he desires, whether farm laborers, common laborers or mechanics, and upon receipt of this card at the department in Washington, the necessary application blank is forwarded at once to the applicant.

Sells Home.

J. F. Ellis has sold Mack Harper's residence on Avenue B, West.

GOES UP FOR LIFE.

Former Madisonville Man Pleads Guilty of Murder.

Carthage, Mo., Oct. 29.—Herman Johnson, formerly of Madisonville, Ky., pleaded guilty at Mt. Vernon to killing James Evans and trying to kill Tom Ryan in a Frisco box car between Carthage and Pierce City. Johnson was sentenced to 99 years in the penitentiary at Jefferson City. Johnson knew that if he pleaded guilty he would get a life sentence. In the court was his mother, who had come all the way from Madisonville on the charity of her neighbors to ask for her son's life.

Buys Lot.

J. F. Ellis bought a nice lot on the West Side yesterday. If you wish to buy or sell real estate call on J. F. Ellis.

HERE AND THERE.

Rev. E. W. Cawley, pastor of Salem Baptist church, has closed a revival in which there were twelve additions to the church. He was assisted by the Rev. Mr. Gabby, of Cadiz.

Drs. Oldham, Osteopaths, 705 S. Clay St., Hopkinsville, Ky. Madisonville High School defeated Owensboro by 5 to 4, in a football game at Madisonville Saturday.

See J. H. Dagg for contracting, building and general repair work of all kinds. Phone 476. Princeton's graded school proposition carried by a vote of 307 to 125. It provides a fifty cent tax on white people's property.

A few Barred Plymouth Rock cockles for sale at $1.50 each. Phone 1222 or 94.

Fiscal Court convenes next Monday in regular monthly session.

They say all whiskey is good whiskey only some is better than others. "Some" means "HARPER," the others are "also-rans."—Call for HARPER at W. R. LONG'S Hopkinsville, Ky.

Horace Kennel, a young white man, is in jail at Union City, Tenn., charged with assaulting Mary Lee, aged 15, a daughter of a justice of the peace.

Athenaeum.

The Athenaeum will hold its November meeting at Hotel Latham Thursday evening. Papers are to be read by Dr. E. W. Blakey, Mr. Jno. E. Byars and Mr. Lucian H. Davis.

Sells Farm.

J. F. Ellis has sold the Morrow farm, "Brick Church," known as "The Least Of These"

By LULU JOHNSON.

Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

Betty shuddered as the heavy iron gates closed behind her and she realized that she was actually visiting a penitentiary, and, though she found it not half so forbidding as she had anticipated, the atmosphere sent a chill through her whole girlish figure. Instead of rock piles with convicts monotonously breaking the stone, here were flower bordered walks and swaths of softest green, but for the high walls and the barred windows she might well have imagined herself in a municipal park or on a million dollar estate.

When she reached the office her basket of delicacies was consigned with others brought by loyal friends for the delectation of other convicts, but the keeper looked curiously at the tag on her basket to Betty's face.

"No, 11,806 hasn't had a visitor since he came here five weeks ago," commented the warden significantly. "Are you a relative?"

"No," said the girl simply. "He was just good to me when I needed help."

"He was good to let you in here," granted the warden, "but somehow they seem to have forgotten it. He's in the hospital."

The warden made a sign to a trusty, and with that beating heart Betty followed the man in the direction of the great gray building, in one wing of which was located the hospital.

Moreton, ex-husband of the girl, was propped up in bed, and at sight of Bessie Yvonne he smiled radiantly. Five weeks he had lain there fighting grimly for the life that he had fought to get back, but he had won the victory that was hardly worth the saving for Moreton had indeed been through the valley of political humiliation. Less than two years before he had ruled two husky men to guard the door of his headquarters and keep back the crowd of importunate callers who wanted financial help. Intellectual word or perhaps just the chance to fawn upon the powerful political leader.

Moreton had been the boss of his district ruling with a rod of iron. He had controlled the machine through sheer force of will power.

His enemies both without and within the party had fought doggedly to break his sway, but the boss had gritted his teeth the harder at each fresh attack and beaten the malcontent into submission.

But there had come an end to his rule, as to almost all one man control. The opposing party had secured the services of a political revivator. "In the interest of good government," he had explained, but the whole city knew that it was a ruse to rid the district of its dominating boss. It meant turning the district over to another clique as bad, but less experienced in municipal villainy.

And the political world had sat back and watched the warfare with grim smiles. Perhaps, after all, the boss would win again. But in this they were wrong. By a mere quip of fate the wheel spun the other way.

The boss lost after loss of power came scandals and lawsuits. The latter took most of the fortune he had flicked from the city, much of which he had spent on the care of those who needed it more desperately than the taxpayers from whom he had flicked it so remorselessly. In reality the boss when the blow fell could have counted his fortune only in thousands when his enemies ran it up to tens of thousands.

When he left the civil court room almost penniless he found himself face to face with criminal charges. Stoically he had accepted his sentence of five years in the penitentiary. Stoically he had accepted his desertion by those who had fawned upon him in prosperity and power. A child of the streets who had started carrying a water bucket for the marching club, he had become a ward heeler, a lieutenant and finally the boss without the aid of family ties or family influence. Stoically he had accepted the decision of the hospital staff. He had an incurable disease. He probably would not live out his sentence.

Yet at sight of Betty Yvonne's face his stoicism vanished, and after the radiant smile of welcome came a tenderness almost pathetic.

"What are you doing here, child?" he asked as he stroked the hand that clasped his. "Sing Sing's a good way for a girl to come who's only making her debt a worse one."

The girl laughed, but her voice was shaky. "Just listen to the man! And I'm getting ten-right in the tower! I read in the paper—about your here—"

"The man smiled grimly. So the papers were commenting on the fact that he was a deserted as well as a despised leader of men. "And I saw the ed. of a lawyer up here who wanted a stenographer, and I came and got the place. I like it much better here than in town. And I can come to see you once a week."

Moreton, desponded boss, leaned over and looked into her face.

"You—come—up—here—to be near me?"

The girl nodded her head.

"And I've got the nicest boarding place with a view, and you ought to see her flower beds!"

Just then a physician in white uniform came toward them.

"You can stay only five minutes," he said without waiting for the formally of an introduction. "I cannot have my patients unduly excited. In a few weeks we shall have him in fine trim. I hope, but we don't want our treatment upset by too much company."

Moreton's lips set in grim lines. The young doctor evidently did not know that this was his first visit.

"Dr. Lindsay, this is one of my best friends. Miss Betty Yvonne, and her coming can't hurt me. Why, say, I like her a tremendous visit now."

Nevertheless the young doctor stood near the door, and when the five minutes were up he led Betty from the prison yard.

"You can come again, as often as the rules permit, but do not stay too long." The next time he made the rounds Dr. Lindsay found Moreton—only quiet, his fever reduced, his pulse normal.

"Doctor," he said, with a smile, "that girl going like a new man. Good than all your dope. It's good to know that there's one person that hasn't forgot you."

And then the young doctor saw that something more than an organic disease was ailing for the old boss' heart.

"A patient of an old friend?" he asked casually.

"Not much—just a kid I picked up in a tenement; took her from a sudden old thing who was beating the life and spirit out of her. And every time she looks at Betty she's over to the doctors. They did the rest."

Lindsay smiled, but he understood. The ex-boss who had paid the doctors for the girl's services and had through a business school and set her on her feet, saving a girlhood like his own boyhood from the slums and the street.

After that Moreton slowly but surely began to mend. There was no curing the disease, but there was every chance to get the girl's services and he wanted to put up the fight. And every time that Betty Yvonne came to the hospital he seemed stronger for the fight.

For a time Dr. Lindsay watched the case with purely professional interest, but gradually this feeling became distinctly personal. He generally met Betty in the reception room of the hospital, lingered near Moreton's bedside during her stay and escorted her to the entrance when she departed.

And, oddly enough, he found many excuses for visiting Mr. Moreton and learning more about "the kid's" plucky fight for education and self support.

Before the first year of his sentence had passed the ex-boss read young Lindsay's secret and one night after Betty had paid her usual call the two men talked it over.

"Mind you, she ain't anybody. Neither she nor I know where she sprung from. So it's up to you," said Moreton warily and yet with loving anxiety in every word.

Yvonne studied the cracks in the flooring for a few seconds, and then he turned resolutely to his patient.

"She's true blue. There are not many like her, no matter what sort of blood was behind her, and I'm going to take chances if she'll have me. And what is more, I am going down to see her tomorrow when I'm off duty."

"Is it all right, Betty?" inquired the ex-boss as he stroked her hand tenderly the next time she came. "Is it all right, little girl?"

The girl smiled into his anxious eyes.

"Oh, Mr. Moreton, do you think I'm half good enough for him?"

"Mind that will you?" inquired the invalid, as if addressing an audience; then he drew the girl close. "Let me tell you something, Betty. He wouldn't let me tell you before for fear you'd think you owed him something. He wanted you to love him for himself. See? But Dr. Lindsay's got some of the boys started, and it looks like a pardon, Betty; it certainly does."

She sank on her knees beside the bed.

"Oh, that is too good to be true."

"And that ain't all, Betty. I had some shares in a gold mine; thought it was a dead one, but Lindsay's been looking into it, and mebbe—well, just mebbe I can take you and Lindsay on a wedding trip to Germany. Lindsay says the springs over there would do wonders for me, and Lindsay needs a change, and—well, Betty, I'd been dead by this time if it hadn't been for you."

He looked up to meet the shining eyes of young Dr. Lindsay.

"Say, Lindsay, ain't there something about the relative pronoun about the least of these? I want to find that verse. I'm going to learn it. I certainly am. Ah, there is so much for me to learn and so little time!"

The Bible's Good Use of Words.

The Bible as a standard for the correct use of words has been based upon by Professor Lounsbury of Yale, writing in Harper's Magazine. "Make up your mind," says Professor Lounsbury, "that the Bible is a guide to the correct use of words as much as it is morally. The language of our version belongs to the sixteenth century. It therefore naturally contains expressions which the modern dropper of that time are not in accord with the common usage of our day. When it was originally translated, which was generally the relative pronoun referring to persons. Hence we say, 'Our Father which art in heaven.' More than this, the subtle distinction found in the employment of shall and will had not then been established in the language. But these do not affect the correctness of its procedure in regard to expressions of the relative pronoun. In such cases accept its authority without question and conform your practice with it."

He went.

Mr. Lindsay—had a queer adventure this afternoon. Miss de Muir (with a swift glance at the clock)—You men yesterday afternoon. I presume.

Mr. Lindsay—had a queer adventure this afternoon. Miss de Muir (with a swift glance at the clock)—You men yesterday afternoon. I presume.

Mr. Lindsay—had a queer adventure this afternoon. Miss de Muir (with a swift glance at the clock)—You men yesterday afternoon. I presume.

Mr. Lindsay—had a queer adventure this afternoon. Miss de Muir (with a swift glance at the clock)—You men yesterday afternoon. I presume.

Mr. Lindsay—had a queer adventure this afternoon. Miss de Muir (with a swift glance at the clock)—You men yesterday afternoon. I presume.

Mr. Lindsay—had a queer adventure this afternoon. Miss de Muir (with a swift glance at the clock)—You men yesterday afternoon. I presume.

Mr. Lindsay—had a queer adventure this afternoon. Miss de Muir (with a swift glance at the clock)—You men yesterday afternoon. I presume.

Mr. Lindsay—had a queer adventure this afternoon. Miss de Muir (with a swift glance at the clock)—You men yesterday afternoon. I presume.

Mr. Lindsay—had a queer adventure this afternoon. Miss de Muir (with a swift glance at the clock)—You men yesterday afternoon. I presume.

Mr. Lindsay—had a queer adventure this afternoon. Miss de Muir (with a swift glance at the clock)—You men yesterday afternoon. I presume.

GOOD SALES

At Association Salesroom Last Week.

Sales of tobacco by the Planters' Association last week on the local market amounted to 100 hogheads. This was the heaviest sales by the local association salesmen for several weeks. Schedule prices were realized on all of the weed sold. The sales for the week greatly reduced the stock of tobacco in the Association salesroom and it is figured that it will only be a short while before all the old crop is disposed of.

OCTOBER SALES.

Total of 1115 For Week Ending Oct. 22.

MARKET.	HHDS.	TOTAL
Clarksville	322	8452
Springfield		8133
Paducah		5317
Guthrie	68	3741
Hopkinsville	132	3563
Murray		2698
Mayfield		2098
Princeton	100	1361
Russellville	4	909
Cadiz		874

Total 1115 39577
JNO. D. SCALES, Auditor.

Mrs. Wm. Astor, the aged head of New York's smart set, died last week, aged 82 years.

SEEDS

Buckbee's "Full of Life" Northern Green Podged seeds have a reputation of 30 years of successful seed growing. In fact, it pays to plant the best. Seasonable Specialties—
Early Red Yucca $1.50 Bushel
Refined Extra Early $3.45 Bushel
Refined Extra Early $3.45 Bushel
Ward's Imp. Kidney Wax $4.50 Bushel
Early New York Wax $4.50 Bushel
Curry's Red Wax $4.50 Bushel
Extra Early Alkali $4.50 Bushel
New Early Green $4.50 Bushel
Refined Extra Early $3.45 Bushel
Buckbee's Lightning Express $4.50 Bushel
Lettuce, Radish, Tomato and a full line of Beans, Peas and other growing plants. Send for complete catalogues or submit a list of your requirements and will quote prices. Buy direct from the grower—Save Money. Write today. Mention this paper.

H. W. BUCKBEE
1805 Buckbee St., Rockford Seed Farm, Rockford, Ill.

DR. EDWARDS.

SPECIALTY
Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat.
Free Test Made for Glasses
Up Bldg.—Phonetic Building, Main St.

Caused By Brain Trouble.

Geo. S. Mast, son of Mr. F. M. Mast, died of brain trouble Friday night at the home of Mrs. Lucy Laub, on Seventh Avenue, East. The remains were interred in Riverside cemetery Saturday afternoon.

Poultry Printing.

We have a very large and complete line of poultry cuts and are prepared to do any and all kinds of printing for poultry raisers at low prices.

BRACKROGGE BROTHERS

... HANDLE ...

Pure Whiskies,
Brandies and Wines

For Medical
And Family Use.

Orders Delivered to Any Part of the City.

PHONES: Home 1318; Cumb. 134.

NO. 11, E. 7th Street.

We Have Your Suit

The Suits You'll
Fancy and the Suits You'll Need.

Your Suit for Dress Occasions,
Your Suit for Business, Your Suit for Lounging, Your Suit for Traveling.

Suits of many fabrics, of many colors, of many shapes, of many styles of trimmings. Also Top Coats, Rain Coats and Fur Coats.

Take a Look at Our $20 and $25 Suits!

Match them if you can! Our highest ambition is to have you satisfied, for then you'll come again.

J.T.WALL & CO.

BABY BOY ITCHING HUMOR

Which Broke Out in Different Places—
Nothing Would Help Him—
Mother Almost in Despair—Skin
Quickly Healed Without Scar and Trouble Has Never Returned

SINCE USING CUTICURA MOTHER GIVES IT PRAISE

"Several months ago, my little boy, now two and a half years old, began to break out with itching sores. I began to doctor him, and as soon as I got them healed up, they broke out in another place. I was in despair. I could not find anything that would help him. One evening I read a testimonial from a lady who had cured her little boy of Cuticura. I began to use the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, and after using them three or four times, the sores began to heal. He is now well, and not a scar is left on his body. They have never returned nor left him with bad blood, as one would think. Cuticura remedies the best, I am sure, and they are surely great. I shall always have them in the house, handy, and shall highly recommend them to any one who is suffering from itching sores. Give them too much praise. Mrs. William Gieseling, 102 Washington St., Attica, Ind., July 22, 1907."

lady who had cured her little boy of Cuticura. I began to use the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, and after using them three or four times, the sores began to heal. He is now well, and not a scar is left on his body. They have never returned nor left him with bad blood, as one would think. Cuticura remedies the best, I am sure, and they are surely great. I shall always have them in the house, handy, and shall highly recommend them to any one who is suffering from itching sores. Give them too much praise. Mrs. William Gieseling, 102 Washington St., Attica, Ind., July 22, 1907."

ITCHING TORMENTS

From little patches of eczema, tetter, milk crust, psoriasis, etc., on the skin, scalp, or hands of infants, children, or adults are instantly relieved and speedily cured, in the majority of cases, by warm baths with Cuticura Soap and gentle anointings with Cuticura Ointment, the great Skin Cure, ascertained, when necessary, by mild doses of Cuticura Resolvent. Cuticura Remedies are guaranteed absolutely pure.

Cuticura Soap (25c) to Cleanse the Skin, Cuticura Ointment (25c) to Soothe the Itch, and Cuticura Resolvent (50c) to Purify the Blood. Sold Everywhere. Write for Free Booklet. Sample Free. Sole Free, Boston, Mass.

HOW LAKES BREATHE.

Failure to Absorb Oxygen Means Death to Fish.

Lack of respiration by inland lakes explains to Professor E. A. Birge many of the failures in stocking with trout and other fish. The lake absorbs air for animal and plant life and exhales nitrogen, carbonic acid and sometimes other gases, but it takes its only full aspiration in autumn, with a few complete one in spring, does not breathe at all in winter and during summer has but very shallow respiration.

When cooled to uniform temperature near freezing the wind turns it over and over, saturating it with 1 per cent by volume of oxygen, twice what the water can hold at surface level. This store may suffice, life being most inactive in winter, but there is sometimes a shortage of oxygen even the ice is gone. Another turning is given by winds in spring. It is imperfect, however, for the fast warming surface soon stops circulation of water below, and the oxygen supply is lessened during the warm period of active and complete rest. Thus it is that the bottom—except in some very deep lakes, where the stock of dissolved oxygen is large—accumulates carbonic acid and products of decay to such an extent as to limit the fish life that can be supported.

The Stingiest Man.
Gallatin claims to have the stingiest man in Tennessee, if not in the world, and a premium is offered for his superior in close fistness. He got married to a home girl to save expenses. They walked around the square for a bridal tour. He bought her a new worth of stick candy for a wedding present and then suggested that they save the candy for the children—Danville (Tenn.) Advocate.

A Word from Josh Wise.
"Thy corporations ain't got no souls, they're seldom on their uppers."

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod Liver Oil is the means of life and enjoyment for tens of thousands: men, women and children.

When appetite fails, it restores it. When food is a burden, it lifts the burden.

When you lose flesh, it brings the plumpness of health.

When work is hard and duty is heavy, it makes life bright.

It is the thin edge of the wedge; the thick end is food. But what is the use of food when you hate it and can't digest it?

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is the food that makes you forget your stomach.

Send this advertisement, together with name of paper in which it appears, your address and four cents to cover postage, and we will send you a "Complete Handy Atlas of the World." SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl St., New York.

KNOW MAN WHO FIXED THE ROPE.

Continued from First Page.

others will be taken to Nashville. Three more prisoners were brought in today.

READY FOR INDICTMENTS.
Camp Nemo, Reelfoot Lake, Nov. 2.—Sunday was a quiet but interesting day with the troops on duty here. There were no "big" features, with the possible exception of the sending of Fred Pinion, one of the prisoners, to Nashville.

According to a well-defined rumor Pinion is said to have been in the gang when it went to Walnut Log on its murderous mission two weeks ago.

Con Young, who was brought in last night from Obion by Maj. Horton's detachment, was released this morning. He was before the grand jury at Union City and told all he knew.

The hospital tent today showed its necessity, there being four soldiers laid up. Three of them were from Company L, of Memphis, and one was private A. B. Carter, who was thrown from a runaway mule last night on his return from Obion as a member of Maj. Horton's squad which accompanied the prisoners to the railroad. The mule fell and caught one of Carter's limbs under him, bruising it considerably, but not breaking any bones. The other men were laid up with chills. The fourth man was Private Felts, of Nashville, who was accidentally shot Friday.

It is learned that it is the State's intention to take all the witnesses now detained at Camp Nemo to Union City Wednesday and Thursday, and wind up the evidence to be submitted to the grand jury as quickly as possible so that indictments may be returned and the trial of the defendants begun. It is stated that indictments may be returned by the latter part of the week.

It is also learned that when the venire for the jury is made up the names selected will be those of citizens living in other counties in this district, this being a new interpretation of the rights of the State in criminal cases. The attorneys for the State are confident the Commonwealth is not restricted to summoning a venire exclusively from the county in which the trial is to occur. This new move is believed by some to be caused by the suspicion that there is too much sympathy with night riders in this county.

Cheapest accident insurance—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Stops the pain and heals the wound. All druggists sell it.

MACEDONIA MEETING

Resulted in Thirty-two New Converts.

Rev. L. L. Spurlin closed a meeting of two weeks at Macedonia Baptist church Sunday, in which he was assisted by Rev. T. T. Powell. There were 32 additions to the church. Mr. Spurlin baptized 30 of the converts Sunday. The revival was a great success in every way. Mr. Spurlin assisted by Evangelist J. W. Rose, will begin a meeting at Buffalo, in Trigg county, next Sunday.

Easy Victory in Tennessee.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 1.—Presidential electors, a Governor, Congressmen and a Railroad Commissioner are to be chosen in Tennessee at the election Tuesday. For both national and state tickets the Democratic leaders are claiming the usual majorities. The Republican State Committee claims to have hopes for the victory of their candidate for Governor. The campaign has been marked by apathy.

Buys a Linotype.

Our neighbor the New-Era has bought a type-setting machine which was put into operation last week, with James Southall as operator. He is a Hopkinsville boy who has been working in Nashville for some time. The machine is the first one to be put into use in this city.

Republican Rally.

The Republicans held a Rally at the court house Saturday night. Speeches were made by Chas. O. Prowse, Jno. M. Renshaw and John Feland. There was a good crowd, but enthusiasm was lacking.

Anybody in Mind?
Whom the gods would destroy they first make mad.—Nashville American.

10 CENTS TO STOP THAT ITCH

How Easy to Get Relief—Instant Relief—From Skin Diseases.

Is it worth 10 cents to you to stop that awful, awful agonizing itch?

If you are afflicted with skin disease, the kind that seems to baffle medical treatment, and leaves you wild with itch, we hope you will not fail to investigate a prescription which is now recommended by many of the best skin specialists, even in preference to their own prescriptions. It is the simple soothing oil of wintergreen compound known as D. D. D. Prescription. A 10 cent trial bottle must convince you that the itch is instantly allayed by this prescription. Get a liberal trial bottle of the healing, soothing, external remedy, D. D. D. Prescription—and see!

We feel quite sure that before long you will be cured, and at any rate we know—know positively—that your itch will be allayed instantly, the minute that soothing liquid is applied to the skin. For sale by L. L. Elgin, druggist.

Write direct to D. D. D. Co., 112 Michigan St., Chicago, enclosing 10 cents for the trial bottle.

TWO CALLS

But Little Damage Resulted From Fires.

There were two alarms of fire turned in Sunday. The first was about two o'clock in the morning, when the fence in the rear of Sutton & Cannon's saloon, Central avenue, west, was discovered in flames. The fire was extinguished with a few buckets of water and little damage resulted. About noon the department was called to Fifteenth avenue, east, where the field south of the street was afire. The flames were rapidly spreading, and buildings just across the avenue were endangered, but prompt action of the department soon put out the fire and the damage was small.

Value of Insurance.

Fires originate in unexpected places and from unknown causes. Doubtless some one who reads this article will sustain the next loss. Are YOU insured and have you the best insurance your money can buy? The Giant Insurance Agency (Incorporated), settles their losses promptly and equitably and guarantees to sell their policies at as low rate as any company doing business. Office in First National Bank building. Both 'phones.

AMUSEMENTS.

One of the most important engagements made for the present season is the much talked of sensational play "The Devil" which has created a wild fire furor over the whole country. "The Devil" has been played to crowded houses in New York, Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia and thousands of the people are turned away nightly unable to secure seats. The play is novelized by the famous Hungarian Author Franz Molnar who has created a noted reputation all over Europe by his daring writings.

"The Devil" is a unique play. The story departs from the commonplace in theatricals and deals with the evil one of history, which all good people have learned to fear, that is Hell. This Devil, who is symbolic, brings forth his machinations to separate a wife from her husband and an artist from his chosen work and in the end bring to ruin several persons. It is a character that appeals to all classes and to all nations.

"The Devil" will be at Holland's Opera House tomorrow night, Nov. 4.

"TEMPEST AND SUNSHINE".
One of the new theatrical offerings for the coming season, will be a dramatization of Mary J. Holmes' novel, "Tempest and Sunshine." All who have read the book will not doubt wish to see the play, which will be brought to the Hopkinsville Opera House by W. F. Mann, the producer, on Nov. 11.

M. W. of A. Camp.
A camp of Modern Woodmen of America was instituted at Fairview by Mr. H. C. Crenshaw, of Lafayette, with fourteen members.

For bargains in real estate call on J. F. ELLIS.

DWELLING WITH NO WOOD.

New Residence at Bogota, N. J., to Contain Nothing Burnable.

A dwelling that is quite unlike any other in the vicinity of Bogota, N. J., is now in progress of construction. It has no wood about it—nothing that can burn. Even the beams for the old English ceiling are of masonry. Ernest A. Gibbons, a manufacturer of Jersey City, is the owner. It is built on the plan of a country house on Walnut Tree Farm, a country estate near his home in England, but the house at Bogota is made of other materials than wood.

Terra cotta forms the body of the house. It is in the form of hollow blocks of the same kind used in the skyscrapers of New York city, for floors and for covering the steel frames. In the walls of Mr. Gibbons' home the blocks are laid end to end, so that the hollow spaces form continuous channels running up and down. Tests proved that the bearing strength was as great as that of solid brick work. The air spaces inside make the walls nonconductors of heat and moisture, with the result that the house will be warm in winter, cool in summer and free from dampness.

In the floors the blocks are laid end downward, giving in appearance the look of the wooden beams in the home at Walnut Tree Farm. They are covered with smooth tile. All the partitions are of hollow tile, like the outside walls, so that fire will spread from one room to another. The roof is of green tiles.

The main entrance to the house is upon a small court and is accessible to passersby. On the main street is a garden, two or three acres in extent, enclosed by a wall. Altogether the ground covers four acres, and there is a tennis court in one corner. The house has three stories, in addition to the basement, and contains fourteen rooms. The cost is estimated at $125,000.

AERIAL GARAGE ON HOTEL TOP

Brickell Manor, N. Y., to Have Great Station For Airships.

In expectation of the new solution of aerial navigation and in preparation for the time when that sport will become as popular as motor racing, the management of a hotel at Brickell Manor, N. Y., is having plans prepared for the erection of an immense aerial receiving and dispatching platform on the roof of the hotel.

The details are being worked out by a Philadelphia architect who designed the hotel. An addition is being planned also, and it is upon this addition that the airship station will be built. Work upon the building will be rushed to completion in order to have it ready for occupancy by next spring.

The platform, which will cover the entire roof and extend several feet beyond, will be given up exclusively to the uses of aviators. The only exception to this will be the entrance to the elevators, which will enable guests to go direct from their flying machines to the other parts of the hotel.

The entire 350 foot length of the building and several feet beyond on trestlework will be a starting track upon the proper slope. On one side will be enormous bars in which several airships may be stored overnight. The plans also call for a completely equipped repair shop.

One of the most difficult problems which confronted the architect when he started work upon the unique plan was how to provide for receiving flying machines by night. This is finally solved by a special lighting arrangement by which lights which cannot confuse the operator. Another strong beam of light will be thrown from a shaded parabolic reflector directly upward to guide distant aviators to the place.

Plants on Florida Keys.
The silsil plant promises to do a great deal on the Florida Keys. Parties are beginning to cultivate the plant on a small scale, and if it can be made a successful silsil as an import should altogether cease, for we have hundreds of little islands that are well adapted to the growth of this valuable plant, says the Homeowner. Vanilla, capsaicin, castor bean and new tropical fruits are also being introduced on the central keys at Ocean City. An exquisite mango, rich as peaches and as free from fiber as any custard, is also being experimented with and promises wonderful results.

Natology Palmyra's Rival.
Palmyra has a rival in the new fortune teller, the natology, which has been of late winning converts in Paris. An elderly lady recently set up in the Latin quarter, where she reads the lines of the future in the palm of her hand. She is doing a flourishing business. Everybody has a nose, and this new method of its examination appeals to the credulous. The old lady looks long and carefully at her visitor's nose through a microscope, and she finds better indications in the marks and blips than ever she found before in the lines of the hand.

Big Fence Building.
The forest service is preparing to send engineers to the Flathead Indian reservation in Montana to build a fence around the 12,995 acres of land included in the new national range for the fast disappearing buffalo. The land has not been paid for yet, and it is estimated that $20,000 will be spent in making settlements with the Indians and others who now own the land, and $100,000 will be spent on the fence. The American Bison society will raise funds for the purchase of the animals.

Personal Gossip

Miss Annie Bacon Clardy, who had been the guest of Mrs. J. A. Kirtley, of Madisonville, has returned home. Mrs. Gusie Lotheridge, of Bowling Green, is visiting in the city.

Miss Mabel Wilson, of Hickman, is the guest of friends in the city.

A W. Pyle is now connected with a Nashville furniture house.

Dr. C. B. Petrie and family left yesterday for Louisville, where they will reside.

Frank Byars, of Lewisburg, is here on a visit to relatives.

Miss Annie Lee Hord, of Mayfield, is visiting Miss Kate Morris.

Mrs. Carrie Donaldson has returned from a visit to Bowling Green.

Prof. and Mrs. W. A. Evans, of Paducah, came up with the football team, and were the guests of Mrs. C. H. Dietrich.

Mr. R. O. Hester, of Mayfield, who had recently been engaged in the practice of law with Mr. J. B. Allenworth in Oklahoma, has moved to this city and will practice his profession at the local bar. Mr. Allenworth arrived here last week, and the partnership heretofore existing will be continued.

Dr. Edwards spent Sunday in Paducah, where he performed a double cataract operation. The patient had been blind two years previous to the operation.

Miss Madge Terry, of Glasgow, is visiting relatives in the city.

Miss Beulah Adams is visiting in Sturgis.

Mrs. Fannie Ware has returned from French Lick.

Judge W. P. Winfree has returned to Hopkinsville, Ky., after a visit to Mr. and Mrs. John Winfree—Nashville American.

Charles F. Jarrett, of Hopkinsville, formerly of Paducah, attended the funeral of Mr. Charles Reed. Mr. Jarrett and Mr. Reed were members of the same company that went out from Paducah in the southern army.

Mrs. T. G. Hiser and Mrs. C. L. Daniel and little son, C. L. Daniel, Jr., have gone to DeLand, Fla., to spend the winter.

Nick Stadelman has returned from a sanatorium, where he went for an operation, but found the operation unnecessary.

Judgment For $450.

In the damage suit of E. E. Steger against the Illinois Central Railroad, the plaintiff was awarded judgment for $450 Friday and the jury were dismissed.

Iron Fence For Sale.

226 feet, including 2 gates, at a bargain. Solid iron, neat and substantial. Good condition. Phone 94 or 1222. Meacham Contracting Co.

For Sale at a Bargain.

Scholarship in one of the best Business Universities of the South. Good for any department. Address this office.

60 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS DESIGNS COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications respecting Patents, Trade Marks, Designs, Copyrights, etc., should be addressed to Scientific American.

A Handbook of the Patent Office, with a list of the names of the inventors, is published by the Scientific American, 435 P. O. Box, New York.

Holland's Opera House

Wednesday Nov. 4.

He must needs go that the Devil drives.—Shakespeare.

An allegorical comedy that has taken Chicago by storm.

The Devil

With Distinguished Cast.

The Sensation of the Hour.

Lower Box... 75c and 50c
Gallery... 25c and 10c

BULBS

HUCKER'S BULBS SUCCESS

SPECIAL OFFER:
Write to build New Western. A 10c trial bottle of our famous "Hucker's Bulbs" is sent free to all who send for it. Satisfaction guaranteed or your money refunded.

Supplies Collection: 10c trial bottle of our famous "Hucker's Bulbs" is sent free to all who send for it. Satisfaction guaranteed or your money refunded.

GUARANTEE TO PLEASE:
We guarantee to please in every particular. Write for our free booklet "How to Grow Bulbs" and you will receive it at once.

SEND 25 CENTS:
To receive our famous "Hucker's Bulbs" is sent free to all who send for it. Satisfaction guaranteed or your money refunded.

H. W. BUCKER, 1000 BUCKER ST., ROCHESTER, N.Y.

POOR CONCRETE WORK

Is about the worst investment a man can have. Such work is either due to errors in construction, caused by lack of experience, or improper mixing and proportionment of materials. Every Bit of our material is measured and mixed systematically and our construction methods are the result of over 5 years of experience in railroad and sidewalk work. To be on the safe side, let us do YOUR WORK.

Meacham Contracting Co.

(INCORPORATED)

WANTED TO BUY Car Load or Less Any Quantity

BUTTER, EGGS, POULTRY, WOOL, FEATHERS, GEN-SENG, BEESWAX, TALLOW, AND

COW HIDES, HORSE HIDES, MULE HIDES, SHEEP HIDES

Don't Fail to See Us For Prices. Call, Write or Phone

The Haydon Produce Co.

HERBERT L. HAYDON, Mgr.
Cumb. Phone 26-3; Home 1322
East 9th St. Near L. & N. Depot

Would You Like a Picture Of That?

Why not get a Kodak and make it yourself? We have Kodaks from $1.00 up and also all necessities in the Kodak line.

The Kodak is now so simplified that all you have to do is to press the button; the Kodak does the rest.

Call On Us For Information.

COOK & HIGGINS.

SURVEYING.

SEVEN YEARS' EXPERIENCE. ACCURACY GUARANTEED.

Meacham Contracting Co.

(INCORPORATED)

Glass Windows Scarce in Mexico. Glass windows are still scarce in the City of Mexico.

Saving the Company.

By CARLETON HAZZARD.

Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

After a long line of incompetent stenographers, Alice consulted herself when Alice Fuller took her place at the typewriter desk, and as though by magic the crooked places were made straight.

So quietly did the girl slip into the routine of the office, so unobtrusively did she accomplish results that Arthur Bradley did not realize all that she was doing. He had only the pleasant feeling that at last the office was running straight, and, in a manner, he took the credit to himself.

It had been a struggle to get the office going at all, for the firm was in opposition to the trust, and everything possible was done to break up the newly established branch office.

More than once Bradley had narrowly escaped some trap laid for him by the enemy. Every blow struck at him he gave back as good. The letters from the home office were encouraging and intimate that if he would round out the first year there would be an increase of salary as well as the present of a block of stock.

The biggest feather in his cap was when the home office turned over to him the task of securing a contract for some $2,000,000 worth of material.

"Such big contracts are usually handed from the home office," he explained to Alice Fuller as he gave her the letter with instructions to place it in the private letter file in the safe. "If they turn this matter over to me it is a sign that they have faith in my judgment."

"It's going to be a ticklish matter to figure on all that material at a price that will be low enough to capture the contract and still give us as much of a profit as possible."

"They probably realize that you are close to the contract, and they know that they can trust you," answered Alice. "It shows that this branch is becoming important."

She went quietly about her work, but there was a happy light in her eyes, for she was as much pleased at this sign of confidence as was Bradley himself.

Alice was not a girl of impulses, but she had come to have more than a liking for Bradley, and she took a pride in his success.

The work that followed was a busy one. Bradley figured far into the night on the problems of cost, and each morning he gave to Alice the results of his work, to be tabulated on the machine and filed in the safe until the figures should be complete. It was weary work with all the specifications and blanks, but at last the estimates were complete, and Bradley took it on to New York in person for the approval of the home office.

He was jubilant on his return. The president of the company had congratulated him on the excellence of his work and had hinted that the new London office might be opened soon with Bradley in charge.

But the jubilation was short lived, for two days later a long letter came from the New York office instructing the branch to alter the estimates in accordance with a set of figures some 30 per cent in advance of the original estimate.

"Here's a job for you," growled Bradley as he took the paper to Alice's desk. "I'll have to do as the home office says, but it's throwing away the contract and my chance of promotion."

"Are you certain that it is the order of the New York office?" asked Alice as she took up the sheets. "You know that this contract means a great deal to the trust if they are able to make it away from us. It means a great deal to me to retain it."

"That's just it," explained Bradley. "They know that if we lose this contract we lose our fight for an independent existence and shall have to sell out to the trust at their own price. If we get it, it will mean that we can beat them and hold our own. Yet they wise my figures."

"And it would be worth a great effort to beat us," went on Alice. "Suppose that the trust people had some one planted in the home office who could copy the figures and send them to the trust office. Suppose, too, that they supplied the people with our letter heads and envelopes. We would be unhelpful and change the bid in accordance with instructions, only to find out that we had been duped after the bids had been opened and the contract awarded to the trust. I think you will find that they have bid only slightly lower than this, but much higher than your original figures."

"That's possible," admitted Bradley. "I'll wire the home office and get their answer."

"And warn the traitor in the office that his plans have been discovered?" reminded Alice. "They will then bid below your figures and get the contract. It would be best to hold on and take chances by yourself. It will be the only way to hold the contract."

"If I only could," exclaimed Bradley. "But I can't act on mere guesswork."

"This is something more than guesswork," insisted Alice. "In the place, this letter is mailed from the Madison square station. That is in the building in which the trust has its main office. Our letters all come from the Wall street office, for of five miles away and nearest our office."

"They are using the same make of typewriter President Hammond's stenographer uses, but it is not the same machine. On the letters from our office there is a piece broken from the cross of every 'L'."

"I think you are right," cried Bradley as he compared two letters. "We'll pop in the original estimate, and when they come to open the bids out our trust friends will have a dozen fits."

"But answer this letter," said that changes have been made in the bid in accordance with instructions and that the bid has been submitted," directed Alice. "Then the traitor will not become alarmed and notify the trust to put in the lower bid."

"You're the general," cried Bradley admiringly. "It is only the second in command until this is straightened out. Do just as you please."

That evening a letter went to the home office reporting that the changes had been made as directed, but Bradley personally took to the office of the contracting company the original bid.

Two days later a long telegram arrived from the head office demanding the explanation of the changes to which Bradley made reference. It was long, and Bradley wrote in reply explaining what those changes were, and who wrote the second message declaring it to be impossible to alter the bid to the old figures, as they directed by wire.

The next morning President Hammond stamped into the office shortly after Bradley called in.

"I came out on the fast train to see what it all means," he cried. "You have ruined the company by letting yourself be fooled in this fashion."

For reply Bradley brought out the letter he had received. It startled Hammond, for beyond question it was on the paper of the contracting company on a cheap imitation. He signed as he laid it down.

"I suppose that you cannot be blamed," he said dispiritedly. "But it means that the company is smashed by a trick of the trust."

"Not yet," declared Bradley, with a laugh. "Miss Fuller's quick eyes saw through the trick. We took a chance and put in the original bid. I think you will find that we are the lowest bidders, for the trust felt safe in keeping up their bid."

"If we win, you can have the London office next month," declared Hammond.

"Excuse me a moment," said Bradley as he slipped out to the office.

"It's a go," he announced beamingly. "Miss Fuller says that she will come as Mrs. Bradley."

"Rather sudden!" asked Hammond. "It's sudden only in the recent realization that I have loved her ever since she came into the office," explained Bradley. "It took this crisis to force the fact home."

Alice looked in at the doorway. "The Wallington people telephone that your estimate has won the contract," she reported demurely, and to her great embarrassment Bradley kissed her under the approving eyes of the president of the company.

"We've tricked the tricky trust," he cried, "and we're going to London on our honeymoon."

"On my yacht," added the president. "We can't do too much for the girl whose clever brain saved the company. You're a lucky man, Bradley."

"Don't I know it?" cried Bradley. "I knew it first."

Lungs and Long Life.
One of the most remarkable cases of longevity recorded was that of an Englishman born in 1483, whose delicate appearance made all the doctors give him up when he was in the cradle. His chest was so narrow, says the report, that he seemed to have difficulty in breathing. Well, this young moribund, condemned by the doctors to die in short order, died in 1651 at the age of 158. He saw the reign of ten kings. Secundus Hango, consul of Venice at Smyrna, measured only fifty-seven centimeters around the chest, and one of his lungs was diseased. Nevertheless he lived to the age of 115 years. He was married five times and had forty-nine children. When he was 100 years old he got his wisdom teeth. When he was 110 his hair turned black again. At 112 his eyebrows and his beard turned black.

Lucky In One Way.
"The late Valerian Grigayeff," said a Chicago art editor, "was one of the first American newspaper sketch artists. On that account he has been behind him a famous name. As Grigayeff said himself the last time I visited him in Paris, his fame was due not to his great artistic skill, but to his luck in coming first. And he added, with a laugh, that it was always lucky to come early and avoid the rush, insuring the case of a bankrupt on the Boulevard Mich, in the Latin quarter, where a young poet had a large turnover of soup spilled over his coat one evening. The waiter, in response to the savage outcries of the poet, said good naturedly:

"Oh, well, you needn't alarm yourself, sir. There's no harm done. Our soup never stays after half past 7."

All In Red.
The playwrights over their supper of lobster boasted, "It," said the greatest of them, with a complacent glance at the two pure pearls in his shirt front, "deceit the color of every actress' frock."

"That is carrying the regard for detail too far," said a playwright who had failed.

"Not a bit of it," said the other. "If I didn't decide on the color of the dresses the stage manager would. Why, that must always be done. Otherwise, in their overmastering desire to draw all eyes to themselves, the actresses would wear bright red. In my first play the frocks were forgotten in the general excitement, and at the first dress rehearsal all six actresses came on in the discovery scene in scarlet gowns."—New York Press.

FACE TO FACE.

A New Problem For Women.

In the looking-glass a woman often sees wrinkles, hollow circles under the eyes, her feet a little because she did not turn to the right remedy when worn down with those troubles which are distinctly feminine. Backache, lumbago, nervousness and the pains and drains of womanhood bring such unhappiness that the face is sure to show it.

Every woman, young or old, is well protected from the blues, nervousness, headache, and the many symptoms of disease to prevalent among our women—if they will conscientiously take Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a safe and sure remedy for the ills of womanhood, because it contains not a particle of alcohol, digitalis or any deleterious drugs.

Weak women are made strong and sick women are made well by this splendid prescription which was used by Doctor Pierce in his large private practice in the specialty of women's diseases. Every woman troubled in this way should write, care of Dr. J. C. Pierce, Medical and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

Many times women call on their family physicians, suffering as they imagine, one from indigestion, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous exhaustion or prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they all press aside to themselves and their busy-going and indifferent, or over-busy doctor, separate and distinct diseases for which he assumes them to be such, prescribes his pills and poisons. In reality they are only symptoms caused by some womb disease. The physician ignorant of the cause of suffering, encourages the practice until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, but probably worse, by reason of the delay, wrong treatment and consequent complications. A proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause, would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said that a disease known is half cured. It is cases almost innumerable, after all other medicines had failed to help and doctors had pronounced the case hopeless, that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, supplemented, when necessary, by the medical advice and counsel of Dr. Pierce, has resulted in a perfect and permanent cure.

THE SECRET OUT.
To refute the many false and malicious attacks, bogus formulas or other untruthful statements published concerning Dr. Pierce's Family Medicine, the Doctor has decided to publish all the ingredients entering into them and place the same on the wrapper inclosing each bottle. The exact working formula for making these medicines cost Dr. Pierce and his collaborating Chemists and Pharmacists many years of study and experiments, but as perfected they produce almost perfect physiological and medicinal compounds, embodying all the active, medicinal principles residing in the ingredients employed, and preserving them perfectly for any length of time and in any climate without the use of a drop of alcohol.

These are the Original Little Liver Pills, first put up sixty years ago, by old Dr. J. C. Pierce. They have been much imitated but never equalled. They are easy to take and best. They're tiny, coated, anti-bilious granules, a compound of refined and concentrated vegetable extracts. Without disturbance or trouble constipation, indigestion, bilious attacks, sick and bilious headaches, and all derangements of the liver, stomach, and bowels are prevented, relieved, and cured. Permanently cured, too, by their mild and natural action, these little pills gently lead the system into natural ways and their influence lasts.

COMFORT AND ECONOMY

MORE AND BETTER RUBBER, STRONG, NON-RUSTING, UNBREAKABLE PARTS. STUDS AND BUTTON-HOLES THAT WON'T BREAK OR PULL OUT, ENABLE US TO POSITIVELY GUARANTEE THAT

BULL DOG SUSPENDERS

OUTWEAR THREE ORDINARY KINDS

MADE LIGHT AND HEAVY WEIGHT (EXTRA LONG, IF DESIRED, IN A VARIETY OF NEAT, PLEASING STYLES

50 CENTS

BEST SUSPENDER VALUE WE EVER OFFERED

HEWES & POTTER

LARGEST SUSPENDER, BELT AND GARTER MAKERS IN THE WORLD. DEPT. 2694 LINCOLN ST., BOSTON, MASS.

Horses and Mules!

New Firm will conduct a First-class Sales Stable at Virginia Street and Central Avenue. Nice Mules, Driving Horses, Good Family Horses and Teams will be supplied and Horses will be bought and sold at all times. Our firm is composed of Richard Leavell and Howard Brame. Give us a call.

Leavell & Brame.

WHERE HEALTH AND PLEASURE MAY BE FOUND!

DAWSON SPRINGS, KY.,

HOTEL - ARCADIA.

THE waters are world wide in the celebrity. The Hotel, with a capacity to take care of 200 people, is situated on the Kentucky Division of the I. C. R. R. about 200 feet from the railroad station, surrounded by a beautiful maple grove. The old chalybeate well is in the yard, and the celebrated salts well about 100 yards from the Hotel. The wells are owned by the Hotel Arcadia and the guests of the Hotel have free access to them. Music is furnished by a String Band during the entire season.

....RATES....

$2.00 per Day. $10.00 per Week. $35.00 per Month.

Children 10 Years and Under $5 00 per Week.

Nurses and Maids $1.00 per Day.

For further particulars apply to N. M. HOLMAN & CO., Hotel Arcadia, Dawson Springs, - - - Kentucky.

DAILY Evening Post

... AND ...

Tri-Weekly Kentuckian

FROM NOW UNTIL

NOV. 9

FOR

$1.00

Bear in mind that the above offer is made only for those who cannot get the Evening Post through carrier or agent. The OFFER IS MADE FOR MAIL SUBSCRIBERS ONLY, (so far as the POST is concerned,) those living in the country, on rural or star routes or in small towns where the paper cannot be delivered by agents. The KENTUCKIAN can be sent to any address or delivered by carrier in the city.

EVERY DAY IN THE WEEK

Shoppers Will Have Their

RAILROAD FARES REFUNDED AT HOPKINSVILLE, KENTUCKY.

If you spend $15 your Fare both ways will be refunded up to 25 miles; if you spend $25 your fare will be paid both ways up to 50 miles. Get a receipt for your ticket, come to Hopkinsville and apply to any of the following members of the Merchants' Association and they will do the rest:

Forbes Mfg. Co., (Incorporated)

PlantersHardware Co., (Incorporated)

F. A. Yost Co., (Incorporated)

Anderson & Fowler Drug Co., (Incorporated)

J. T. Wall & Co., (Incorporated)

The Witt Co., (Incorporated)

Cook & Higgins, L. L. Elgin, W. P. Pool & Son, R. C. Hardwick, Frankel's Busy Store, J. H. Anderson & Co., Bassett & Co., Warfield & West Shoe Co., T. M. Jones, Keach Furniture Co.

(Incorporated)

(Incorporated)

IRELAND'S PEAT BEDS.

Proposed Plan to Convert Them Into Electrical Energy.

From peat to electrical power is the story of a new enterprise in Ireland. The scheme is to erect a central station upon the Grand canal, about twenty-four miles from Dublin, and to produce blast furnaces gas from the peat which will drive huge sea engines, these in turn propelling electric generators of sufficient capacity to furnish electrical energy over Kings county and Kildare.

The process to be exploited is that of a German inventor, whose large factory near Munich has been operating successfully for about two years. Peat containing as much as 50 per cent moisture can be used satisfactorily, the moisture becoming an essential ingredient of the water gas and preventing too rapid combustion. An elaborate plant is to be installed for hydrocarbons, such as sulphate of ammonia, tars and tar oils, etc., which in themselves are of appreciable commercial value.

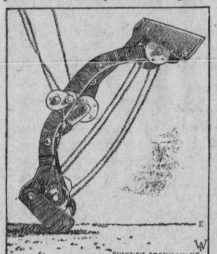

In the German factory the process is of a dual nature. Peat from which 75 per cent of the moisture can be evaporated is converted into peat coke, which is used as a fuel in the German navy and many industrial concerns, while the raw material, which retains half its moisture, is for producing the gas from which the hydrocarbons are extracted.

HUGE CARGO UNLOADERS.

New Type of Clam Shell Bucket Eliminates Shoveling.

A new type of clam shell bucket has been installed on the Cleveland and Erie burg ore docks, Cleveland. The bucket has the enormously wide opening of eighteen feet one inch inside measurement, which is obtained without increasing the height or complexity of the structure. The advantage of this reach in scraping or cleaning up is obvious. The bucket can be operated on any design of unloader using either steam or electricity. Its parts are few and durable and its cost of maintenance is low. The bucket shown in the illustration has been in operation for over a month, requiring no further attention than lubrication.

Especially advantageous is this bucket in discharging the cargo from a twenty-four feet center boat with hatch openings running twelve feet over and aft. It practically eliminates shoveling by hand. Another advantage, appreciated by operators, is in the position of the trays when the grab is open, as the digging edge of the trays comes in contact with the bulkhead or wing of the boat only, while the top of the tray is over eighteen inches from either bulkhead, wing or stanch, thus taking the ore perfectly clean from any part of the vessel. When the grab is dropped the trays lower edge of the trays comes in contact with the tank top, obviating any damage to the tank top, which feature is greatly appreciated by vessel owners. The bucket will hold and reach to its full opening by simply placing the heavy screw on only a half bucket of ore.

NEW CLAM SHELL BUCKET.

The bucket is the invention of Mr. Huntley of Cleveland.

New Aluminium Alloy.

Magnalium, the new alloy of a Berlin syndicate, claims to be the most important and interesting material. It contains from 90 to 98 per cent of aluminium, the remaining percentage being chiefly magnesium, and it retains the good qualities of aluminium while having the much desired greater hardness and greater tensile strength, with greater resistance to oxidation than any other light metal alloy. It is almost unaffected by damp air, water, gaseous ammonia, carbonic acid and most organic acids. It can be cast in the liquid condition, like pure aluminium, and the castings can be machined, acquiring a smooth, mirror-like surface. Unlike pure aluminium, it may be cut to perfect screw threads and filed without clogging the file or tearing the material. The uses found are already quite numerous and include kitchen utensils, parts of spinning and milling machinery, saddle skeletons, surgical appliances and chemical apparatus.

Mountains as Magnets.

Magnetic observations of the extinct volcano called the Puy de Dome, in central France, have brought out the curious fact that the mountain is magnetized not merely at certain points, but as a whole, the top of the dome acting as a south magnetic pole. Singularly enough, similar observations of the Kaiserstuhl, a mountain in Germany, indicate that it possesses a north magnetic pole at its summit.

Mammoth Tobacco Farm.

On the largest tobacco farm in the world, a 25,000-acre affair, near Amsterdam, Ga., is grown about a third of all the Mammoth tobacco used for cigar wrappers in the United States.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CASTORIA COMPANY, 71 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

R. H. HESTER, Home Phone 3228.

W. H. HESTER, Home Phone 1230

HESTER BROTHERS, Contractors and Builders,

Concrete Work A Specialty.

106 South Virginia Street. Hopkinsville, Kentucky.

Building Material.

If you are going to build a new house or repair your old one it will pay you to call on us and let us figure with you. Don't worry with the flies and mosquitoes this Summer.

ALL WORK GUARANTEED.

Cumb. Phone 540. Home Phone 1160.

All Kinds of Stoves Repaired.

HUGH McSHANE, THE PLUMBER.

New Aluminium Alloy.

Magnalium, the new alloy of a Berlin syndicate, claims to be the most important and interesting material. It contains from 90 to 98 per cent of aluminium, the remaining percentage being chiefly magnesium, and it retains the good qualities of aluminium while having the much desired greater hardness and greater tensile strength, with greater resistance to oxidation than any other light metal alloy. It is almost unaffected by damp air, water, gaseous ammonia, carbonic acid and most organic acids. It can be cast in the liquid condition, like pure aluminium, and the castings can be machined, acquiring a smooth, mirror-like surface. Unlike pure aluminium, it may be cut to perfect screw threads and filed without clogging the file or tearing the material. The uses found are already quite numerous and include kitchen utensils, parts of spinning and milling machinery, saddle skeletons, surgical appliances and chemical apparatus.

Mountains as Magnets.

Magnetic observations of the extinct volcano called the Puy de Dome, in central France, have brought out the curious fact that the mountain is magnetized not merely at certain points, but as a whole, the top of the dome acting as a south magnetic pole. Singularly enough, similar observations of the Kaiserstuhl, a mountain in Germany, indicate that it possesses a north magnetic pole at its summit.

Mammoth Tobacco Farm.

On the largest tobacco farm in the world, a 25,000-acre affair, near Amsterdam, Ga., is grown about a third of all the Mammoth tobacco used for cigar wrappers in the United States.

IN THE COMING ELECTION YEAR with its tense interest in the trusts, the tariff, the railroads, politics generally and political personalities, the Review of Reviews will be doubly valuable to you.

25 cents

a

Copy

$3.00

a

Year

The Review of Reviews offers busy people an education in current events that is concise, comprehensive and authoritative at a minimum cost of time, effort and money

ALL THE MAGAZINES IN ONE

With Dr. Albert Shaw's monthly "Progress of the World," with the cartoon history of the month, with the timely contributed articles on just the question you are interested in, with the gist of the really important and articles of all the other magazines of the world served up to you, and reviews of new books—one can keep intelligently up with the times at a minimum cost of time, effort and money.

WE WANT REPRESENTATIVES

In every community to take subscriptions and sell our book offers. Liberal compensation and cash prizes. A fine chance to build up a permanent and profitable business in your home town. Write to-day to

THE REVIEW OF REVIEWS CO.

1111 N. 11TH ST., NEW YORK

Hopkinsville Market.

Corrected Wednesday Oct. 28, 1908.

GROCERIES.

[THESE ARE RETAIL PRICES.]

Apples, per bushel, 25c and 50c.
Beans, white, per gal. 50c.
Coffee, Arbuckle's, per lb., 20c.
Do, roasted, 15c to 25c.
Coffee, green, 12 1/2c to 25c.
Do, green, per lb., 60 to 80c.
Do, black, per lb., 40c to 50c.
Cheese, cream, 25c lb., straight.
Eggs, 12c.
Rice, 10c.
Sugar, granulated, 15 lbs. $1.00.
Sugar, light brown, 18 lbs., $1.00.
Sugar, dark brown, 20 lbs., $1.00.
Sugar, Cuba, 14 lbs. for $1.00.
Sugar, XXXX, 14 lbs. for $1.00.
Peanut, patent, per bbl., $5.50.
Flour, family, per bbl., $5.20.
Flour, 12lb., sack 40c.
Meal, per bushel, $1.10.
Honey, per lb. 5c.
Grits, 20c gallon.
Oat Flakes, package, 10 to 15c.
Oat Flakes, bulk, 5c lb.

VEGETABLES.

Irish potatoes, per bushel, 25c.
Cabbage, new, 25c.
Onions, per bushel 30c.
Turnips, per bushel 20c.
Celery, 5c and 10c a bunch.

CANNED GOODS.

Corn, per doz. cans, $1.00 to $1.50.
Tomatoes, 12 cans, $1.00 to $1.10.
Peas, from 10c to 30c per can.
Beans, per can, 10c.
Kidney Beans, 10c can.
Lima Beans, per can, 10c.
Korona, per can, 20c.
Squash, per can, 10c.
Peaches, 10c to 40c per can.
Apricots, per can, 25c to 35c.
Pineapples, per can, 10c to 35c.
Raisins, 10c and 15c package.
Evaporated Peaches, 10c to 20c lb.
Evaporated Apples, 10c to 20c lb.
Evaporated Apricots, 12c to 20c lb.
Fruit, 10c to 15c per lb.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

Hams, country, per lb., 15c.
Packer's hams, per lb., 15c.
Shoulders, per lb., 10c.
Sides, per lb., 12 1/2c.
Lard, per lb., 12 1/2c.
Eggs, per dozen, 25c.
Honey per lb., 12 1/2c.

Wholesale Prices.

POULTRY.

Sigs, 18c doz. Hens, 6c lb.
Squabs, per lb., 3c.
Young Chickens, 10c per lbs.
Turkeys, fat, per lb., 6c.
Ducks, per lb., 7c.
Geese, per lb., 3c.
Pall feather geese, per doz., $4.00 to $5.00.

GRAIN.

No. 2 Northern mixed oats per bushel, $5.00.
No. 1 Timothy hay, per ton, $15.00.
No. 2 Timothy hay, per ton, $12.00.
No. 3 Clover Hay, per ton, $10.00.
Mixed Clover Hay.

POULTRY, EGGS AND BUTTER.

Prices paid by wholesale dealers to the producers and dairymen:
Live Poultry—Hens, per lb., 6c.
Butter—Packing stock per lb., 14c.

ROOTS, HIDES, WOOL AND TALLOW.

Prices paid by wholesale dealers to butchers and farmers:

Roots—Southern gingel, $5.00 lb.; "Golden Seal" yellow root, $1.00 lb.; Mayapple, 2c pink root, 12c and 13c.

Tallow—No. 1, 4c; No. 2, 3c.

Wool—Burry 5 to 17c; Clean 17c to 20c; Medium, tub-washed, 20c to 25c; coarse, dingy, tub-washed, 18c to 23c.

Feathers—Prime white geese, 45c; dark and mixed old geese, 15c to 30c; gray mixed, 15c to 30c; white duck, 20 to 30c.

Hides and Skins—These quotations are for Kentucky hides Southern green hides 7 1/2c.

We quote assorted lots: dry flint, 10c to 12c.

Southern Railway

Will have on sale daily to October 31st, 1908.

One Way Colonist Tickets to ARIZONA, CALIFORNIA, IDAHO, MONTANA, NEVADA, NEW MEXICO, OREGON and WASHINGTON, at Extremely Low Rates.

Inquire of any agent or write

J. C. BEAM, JR.,

Am't Gen. Pass. Agt.,

ST. LOUIS, MO.

Professional DR. F. McDANIEL.

Feirstein & Smith, DENTISTS.

Office in Summers Building,
Next to Court House,
Hopkinsville, - - Kentucky
BOTH PHONES.

Dr. R. F. McDaniel.

Practice Limited to Diseases of Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat.
Office in Summers Building Near Court House.

PHONES: Cumb. Home. Office Hours:
City 118 119 120 121 122
Residence 210 1140 8 to 12 a. m.
2 to 5 p. m.

Dr. G. P. Isbell,

Veterinary Physician and Surgeon

Layne's Stable. Phone 530.

C. H. TANDY, DENTIST.

Office over First National Bank

HOPKINSVILLE, KY.

Dr. H. C. Beazley

Specialist.

Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat

Office hours: 9-12 a. m., 2-5 p. m.

Main street over Kress Store,

Hopkinsville, Ky.

WALTER KNIGHT,

Attorney-at-Law

HOPKINSVILLE, COURT STREET

Frank Boyd BARBER,

Seventh Street, Hopkinsville, Ky.

Special attention given to patrons.

Clean Linen. Satisfactory Service.

Call and be convinced.

Bath Rooms in Connection,

Baths 25c.

Tennessee Central

TIME TABLE.

EAST BOUND.

No. 12 Nashville Mail

leaves.....6:30 a. m.

No. 14 Nashville Mail

leaves.....4:00 p. m.

WEST BOUND.

No. 11 Nashville and Clarksville

mail arrives.....11:20 a. m.

No. 13 Nashville and Clarksville

mail arrives.....8:15 p. m.

G. R. NEWMAN, Agt.

Thrice-A-Week World

More Alert, More Thorough

More Fearless Than Ever.

READ IN EVERY ENGLISH

SPEAKING COUNTRY.

A President of the United States will be elected this year. Who is he and who is the man whom he will beat? Nobody yet knows, but the Thrice-A-Week edition of the New York World will tell you every step and every detail of what promises to be a campaign of the most absorbing interest. It may not tell you what you hope, but it will tell you what is. The Thrice-A-Week World of long ago established a character for impartiality and fearlessness in the publication of news, and this it will maintain. If you want the news as it really is subscribe to the Thrice-A-

Week edition of the New York

World, which comes to you every other day except Sunday, and is thus practically a daily at the price of a weekly.

THE THIRCE-A-WEEK WORLD'S regular subscription price is only

$1.00 per year, and this pays for 166 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and the HOPKINSVILLE

KENTUCKIAN together for one year for $2.65. The regular subscription price of the two papers is $3.00.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY

Has On Sale

FIRST AND THIRD TUESDAYS

OF EACH MONTH

Home-seekers Tickets

At Very Low Rates

To The

WEST AND SOUTHWEST.

Write,

A. R. COOK, D. P. A.

B. S. YENT, T. P. A.

LOUISVILLE, KY.

CARLSBAD OF AMERICA

French Lick and West Baden

Springs, Ind.

Now reached by direct line of the Southern Railway.

Leave Evansville, 7:20 a. m., 2:20 p. m.

" Rockport, 7:15 a. m., 2:15 p. m.

" Canneton, 7:15 a. m., 2:15 p. m.

" Tell City, 7:25 a. m., 2:22 p. m.

" Troy, 7:35 a. m., 2:32 p. m.

Ar. French Lick 10:20 a. m., 5:45 p. m.

Ar. West Baden 10:30 a. m., 5:55 p. m.

Daily except Sunday.

ROUND TRIP RATES—LIMIT 30 DAYS

Evansville to French Lick $3.16

" to West Baden 3.20

Rockport to French Lick 2.52

" to West Baden 2.56

Canneton to French Lick 2.72

" to West Baden 2.76

Tell City to French Lick 2.60

" to West Baden 2.64

Troy to French Lick 2.44

" to West Baden 2.48

J. C. BEAM, JR., A. G. P. A.,

St. Louis, Mo.

E. D. SUTTON, P. A.,

Evansville, Ind.

Time Table.

Taking effect 12:01 a. m. July 1st, '08

NORTH BOUND.

No. 236—Paducah-Cairo

TRAGEDIES IN TRIGG.

A Suicide And an Accidental Death.

Cadiz, Ky., Oct. 31.—Mrs. Jeff Taylor, wife of a prominent farmer living in the southern part of this county, committed suicide Wednesday night by drowning herself in a well, after having cut her throat with a pocket knife. She arose some time during the night, while the other members of the family were asleep, and her lifeless body was found next morning in the well.

Her mind had been unbalanced for a year or more, and several weeks ago she attempted to drown herself by jumping into the well, but was rescued by her two little daughters. She was about forty-five years of age.

Miss Sallie Martin, living in the southern part of this county, and daughter of the late Capt. J. W. Martin, met a horrible death Thursday afternoon. She was at a pond near her home doing the family washing, and in working near the fire under the kettle her clothing caught on fire, and in her excitement she evidently never thought of jumping into the pond to extinguish the fire, but started frantically for the house, some distance away. She fell exhausted before she reached the house, with her clothing and her hair all burned off and her body badly burned, and died in a few hours thereafter in terrible agony. She was about 30 years of age.

Her brother, M. M. Martin, was murdered at Gracey last year by a negro, who has never been captured.

BOYS WERE GOOD.

And Hallowe'en Was as Quiet as a May Morning.

Hopkinsville passed through the dreaded Hallowe'en night without any disturbances or disorders of any kind, except a fire alarm about two o'clock, which proved to be a small fire at Sutton's saloon, corner Weber street and Central avenue, which was put out before any damage was done. So far as heard from, there were no gates removed or lawn furniture molested. The boys were all on their good behavior and the evening was quiet and uneventful, except for three entertainments with Hallowe'en features. The Methodist Sunday school had a ghost party at the old Hopson home, the Cumberland Presbyterians had a similar one at Hotel Latham and the High school pupils entertained the visiting High School boys from Paducah at the Westminster Presbyterian church.

Many of the young people enjoyed themselves at these entertainments and then went quietly home. No one attempted to indulge in the usual disorders in any part of the city.

FOOT BALL GAME

Hopkinsville Victorious in One, Paducah the Other.

The Paducah High School team defeated the High school eleven Saturday by the score of 10 to 2. Paducah made both her touchdowns in the first half, while Hopkinsville made a safety in the second. In the second half the game resolved itself into a punting duel and one of the home team's punts rolled over Paducah's line and Paducah attempted to run it back but was thrown by Rudd behind the goal line. The game was the best High School game ever witnessed in the city and a large crowd attended.

In the contest between the Madisonville Athletics and the McLean football team here Friday, the latter was victorious. The score was 12 to 0.

Case Affirmed.

The district court of appeals at San Francisco, Cal., has affirmed the judgment of the lower court in the case of Cordelia Botkin, who was convicted in 1904 of murder in the first degree and sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of Mrs. John P. Dunning, of Dover, Del., by means of poisoned candy, sent through the mails.

Feel languid, weak, run-down? Headache? Stomach "off"?—Just a plain case of lazy liver. Burdock Blood Bitters tones liver and stomach, promotes digestion, purifies the blood.

FOR RENT—Cottage of five rooms, near business section. Inquire at this office.

POLITICAL POINTS

Mr. Bryan spent yesterday in Kansas and reached his home at night for a demonstration at Lincoln.

John Mitchell, the labor leader, issued an address yesterday declaring it his judgment that Bryan's election would be best for the country.

Attorney General Breathitt wound up the campaign for the Republicans here yesterday with a speech at the court house.

Mr. Bryan's train going into Chicago Saturday night was delayed four hours and 25,000 people at four big meetings were disappointed and failed to hear him speak.

Hearst read more stolen letters Saturday. One referred to the payment of $3,000 for a year's subscription to the Manufacturer's Record, by the Standard Oil Co.

Seven prominent citizens were injured, three seriously, in a political riot at Lebanon, Ind., Saturday afternoon. It was charged by the Democrats that the Republicans violated a non-corruption agreement.

From the most reliable sources, Indiana is safe for the Democratic ticket, notwithstanding an enormous corruption fund has been sent to the State by the Republicans. Marshall's victory for Governor is conceded by many conservative Republicans. Bryan, it is claimed, will carry the state by at least 15,000 plurality.

Norman E. Mack, chairman of the National Democratic Committee, issued his election forecast Saturday putting 333 votes in the "certainly Democratic" column. He includes in this list West Virginia, New York, Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin, Connecticut, Rhode Island and Kansas. Mr. Mack says his report is based on the most accurate information obtainable, and he has not the slightest doubt that Bryan and Kern will sweep the country. Frank H. Hitchcock, the Republican chairman, in his forecast, claims 325 votes for Taft and Sherman.

To City Voters.

Don't forget to take your registration certificate with you to the polls, as you cannot vote without showing it. If you have lost it, you can get another at the clerk's office by paying a small fee.

NEW BOXES.

Had to be Made For the Election To-day.

The ballot to be used today contains seven party tickets and an additional column for voting on the stock law. It is two feet long and almost as wide. The ballot boxes heretofore used were about the size of a nail keg, but they were found to be too small for the present election and Sheriff Renshaw had 30 new ones made almost as large as a flour barrel. They are made of tin, are barrel shaped and were made by Adwell & Stowe, local tinners.

Soothers itching skin. Heals cuts or burns without a scar. Cures piles, eczema, salt rheum, any itching. Doan's Ointment. Your druggist sells it.

Hallowe'en Celebrators.

Belton, Tex., Nov. 1.—Fire started by Hallowe'en roysterers late last night totally destroyed the Belton Compress and 10,000 bales of cotton. The loss will exceed $250,000, which is covered by insurance. Twenty residences were damaged by the fire and water, and seventeen loaded freight cars burned, which will increase the total loss by $10,000.

Fine Farm Sold.

J. F. Ellis closed a deal last week by which a valuable farm in South Christian changes hands.

87 Arrests.

The report of the chief of police for the month of October shows that there were 87 arrests during the month.

Residence Sold.

J. F. Ellis has sold Fount Meacham's two-story residence on Elm street.

NIGHT RIDER SUITS

On Docket in Federal Court at Paducah.

Paducah, Ky., Nov. 2.—Four night rider suits, with an aggregate total of $200,000 damages sought, are on the docket of the Federal Court of the Western district, which will sit here November 16. The largest suit is that of Henry Bennett, the merchant of Dycusburg, who filed suit in Louisville for $100,000 against the night rider organization. It has been transferred to Paducah. The Federal Court at Paducah is the only court that has ever tried a night rider suit, the first being the Hollowell suit, in which a verdict for $35,000 was returned in the second trial. The suits on the docket now are: Henry Bennett, for $100,000 damages against the organization for the Dycusburg raid; Nat Frizzell, colored, $25,000; Maggie Scruggs, colored, $50,000, and L. A. Baker, colored, $25,000, for the Birmingham raid. The trial will draw many hundreds of defendants and witnesses. In the Birmingham raid there are seventy-one defendants, while in the Bennett suit there are eighty-seven defendants. Should the usual defense of alibi be established by the alleged night riders the population of Paducah temporarily would be increased several hundred.

If you are a sufferer from that most distressing affliction, piles, and have tried many remedies without being benefited we can safely say that Manzan Pile Remedy will bring relief with the first application. Sold by Anderson-Fowler Drug Co., Incorporated.

TOBACCO BARN BURNS.

Suspicious of Incendiarism Brings Out Bloodhounds.

Owingsville, Ky., Oct. 30.—A general merchandise store and tobacco barn of Jacob McClure was burned at Sherbourne, this county, last night by night riders. Bloodhounds were brought from Lexington and put on the trail. The sheriff and posse left this morning for the scene and every effort will be made to capture the incendiaries. Mr. McClure had sent a niece, who was making her home with him, to the Reform School last spring, and feeling has since been very bitter against him in that neighborhood.

Mr. McClure had received several notices signed "Night Riders," stating that he had too much property at stake to meddle in other business. Loss $12,000; no insurance.

Resignation Accepted.

Rev. Millard A. Jenkins has tendered his resignation as pastor of the Baptist church, to take effect after the second Sunday in December. The resignation was reluctantly accepted by the church and the Board of nine deacons was appointed a committee to recommend another pastor to the church.

"I suffered habitually from constipation. Doan's Regulents relieved and strengthened the bowels, so that they have been regular ever since."—A. E. Davis, grocer, Sulphur Springs, Tex.

Some Things Worth Remembering.

When in need of anything in the Jewelry or Optical line, get it from the OLD RELIABLE, then there will be no question as to the article being just what it is represented to be, and as cheap as the same quality can be bought for anywhere.

Only one price to all, rich and poor, old and young; and you have the assurance from an exclusively practical jeweler who has been in the business in Hopkinsville a quarter of a century and who does not misrepresent his goods either in price or quality.

Hundreds of articles bought from M. D. Kelly over thirty years ago are to be seen today in use, and are the best evidence of the quality of goods sold by the old reliable. These are considerations that should not be forgotten.

M. D. KELLY.

The Old Reliable Jeweler and Optician.
25 Years at 8 N. Main St.

New Addition

I wish to inform my customers and the public generally that I have just Opened an up-to-date

FRESH MEAT MARKET

In Connection with my GROCERY

I have given Mr. David H. Littlefield an interest in that branch of the business, and have employed Mr. Wootton, an experienced meat cutter, who will conduct the meat business. We propose to furnish first-class meats of all kinds at reasonable prices, and we want your business.

B. B. RICE,

GIVE US A CALL.

BOTH PHONES.

GET READY FOR WINTER!

It is getting too cool to ride comfortably without a good Lap Robe. We HAVE JUST RECEIVED A LARGE SHIPMENT with many NEW SELECTIONS and have some of the most HANDSOME ROBES ever shown in Hopkinsville.

We handle the Chase and Strooks Robes, and everybody that is posted in this line, knows they are the very best. We also have the latest improved Buggy Storm Curtains and Feet Warmers.

Wagon Harness

WE would like for you to call at our Harness Shop and look at the well made and neat Wagon Harness we have on hand. We also have a big line of Harness Bridles. This is the time of year to buy these kinds of goods—so favor us with a call.

OUR MOTTO
RELIABLE GOODS AT RELIABLE PRICES.

Forbes Mfg. Co.

Incorporated.